Freeway Progress Report

CONSTRUCTION on Junipero Serra Freeway, as seen from vicinity of Eastmoor Avenue in Daly City, shows extensive earthmoving operation in progress. Project extends southerly to Arroyo Drive from recently opened project in Daly City. Mary's Help Hospital is at left.

Construction is 25 per cent complete on a project to extend Interstate 280 (Junipero Serra Freeway) south for 3.4 miles from Eastmoor Avenue in Daly City to a half mile south of Arroyo Drive in South San Francisco.

The State Division of Highways gave this progress obser vation in a first-of-the-month report on San Mateo County freeway activities.

The Eastmoor to Arroyo job is one of four major highway projects, costing almost $34,000,000, just recently completed or in various stages of construction in the county.

Access to this $10.500,000 freeway project will be provided through interchanges at Westhorough Boulevard and Hickey Boulevard and Collins Avenue extensions.

In addition, separations for local traffic are being built at Chinese Cemetery Road and the King Drive extension.

The highway division pointed out that all of the proposed road extensions will be constructed by other jurisdictions.

The freeway is being constructed on a split-level profile through the hills west of the existing Junipera Serra Boulevard bordering Winston Manor. Southbound lanes will be 12 feet higher than the northbocnd roadway, the division report noted.

A $7,000,000 major project along the same route is 35 per cent completed. That is the stretch between Summit Drive and Route 186 in San Bruno.

The third going project on 280, it includes 1.7 miles of eight-lane freeway from Larkspur Drive to Route 186 and is due for completion next year.

Junipero Serra Boulevard has been permanently closed to traffic between San Bruno Avenue and Whitman Way to accomodate this freeway construction.

In addition to construction on Route 280, the first contract included grading on a portion of Route 1 near the interstate facility in this vicinity.

Also on Interstate 280, interchange facilities have been constructed in the vicinity of Market Street, Washington Street and Alemany Boulevard-Knowles Avenue, all in Daly City, with an on-ramp from San Francisco being provided by modification of the existing Alemany Boulevard overcrossing at the north end of the project.

Plans and status of other projects also were disclosed by the highway engineers, including the announcement that bids will be received on July 13 for a project to landscape portions of the Capbrillo Highway (Route 1), from south of Sharp Park Road to north of Manor Drive in Pacifica on the completed freeway. That will be a $250,000 task.

Another project under design study is a 2.3 mile unit of Route 280 between San Bruno Avenue in San Bruno and Arroyo Drive in South San Francisco, for which right of way is being acquired.

The various design studies on 280 are being expedited on remaining portions of the route so that the entire 50 mile freeway between San Jose and San Francisco will be completed before the 1972 deadline.

Among the design studies on other routes is a project to widen El Camino Real for 2.3 miles between San Bruno Avenue in San Bruno and north of Arroyo Drive in South San Francisco to a six-lane divided highway, although the project will not be advertised for some time.

Other plans and work in the mill include:

— A project to expand 6.7 miles of Route 101 to an eight-lane freeway between San Bruno Avenue near San Bruno and Third Street in San Francisco is uner design study. A proposal to increase the median width to accommodate disabled and maintenance vehicles is being studied, with advertising set for next year.

— The sum of $300,000 has been budgeted for a project to resurface and build shoulders on 5.2 miles of Route 35, including a channelization and signals at Hickey Boulevard and channelization at College Avenue between north of Crystal Springs Road and south of Route 1 in Daly City.

9-Year-Old Boy Is Doing 'Fine' After Cliff Fall

A nine-year-old Daly City boy miraculously escaped death on June 28, plunging more than 250 feet down a cliff overlooking Thornton Beach and landing, headfirst, on the Old Cabrillo Highway.

Leo Karhofer, of 16 Manor Drive, was walking along the unused Cabrillo Highway when he saw little Steven J. Coleman, of 16 Carmel Drive, "flying through the air."

Little Steve landed with a loud thud at the feet of Karhofer who remained with the boy until the arrival of rescuers.

The accident happened shortly after 5 p.m. when Steven was playing in the North Ridge playground with a friend.

Steven decided to climb the six foot high cyclone fence that runs along the top of the cliff. Once on the other side, the boy lost is footing in loose sand and plunged to the road below.

Police Officer William Moeller was among the first to arrive at the scene after being alerted by Donald Espinoza, of 66 Carmel Drive, father of Steven's friend.

But neither Moeller or fire department rescue units were able to immediately reach the boy from the towering cliffs.

An alternate route was finally located via the Old Cabrillo Highway which runs down to the beach — another 200 feet below the spot where Steven landed.

The injured boy was rushed to Mary's Help Hospital where he was treated for a skull fracture, broken wrist and multiple lacerations.

A hospital spokesman this week said young Coleman was "doing fine."

Bruno Boys Held Captive, Are Tortured

Two small San Bruno boys — ages six and nine — were held captive in a playground shack for two hours last Thursday and tortured by two older teen-age youths, police reported.

The younger of the two children, John Jensen, of 196 Lyndon Avenue, was in satisfactory condition at Peninsula Hospital with multiple contusions of the lower back and upper legs.

Parents of the nine-year-old victim have asked that his identity be withheld until investigation is completed.

John told police he was riding his bicycle in the Capuchino High School year with his older friend when two teen-age boys, also on bikes, forced them into a nearby shack.

Once inside the small building they were ordered to take off all their clothes.

The older boys then started hitting them on the lower back with pieces of wood and told the youngsters "you'll get hit every time you make a noise."

John told police he was hit "lots of time" because he "couldn't stop crying."

Apparently tiring of this type torture, the teen-age boys began tossing lighted firecrackers at the nude bodies of the boys — letting them explode against their skin, police said.

Valuation Of Building In Bruno Down

Although the June, 1966, building valuation dropped by nearly half the amount recorded a year ago the six months' total continues to exceed 1965, the San Bruno building inspection department has disclosed.

Last month's total valuation was $336,299 on 52 permits, compared with the figure of $606,390 on 58 permits in June of 1965.

The six-month total, from January 1st to June 39th, was $2,880,334 on 302 permits. Last year at this time, the total six-month valuation figure was $2,504,453, the inspection department report showed.

Only 10 new living dwelling permits were issued this past June, in contrast to 24 in June, 1965.

During this year's six-month period, only 14 dwelling construction permits have been issued. Last year at this time, the San Bruno building department had issued 33 such permits in the six-month period.

Coach Staff Extra Pay For 1 Year

$40,000 Fund Is Allocated

Trustees of the Jefferson High School District in Daly City last week approved a one-year allocation to pay coaches for their extra hours.

The extra pay controversy is thus ended, at least for a year's time, with the granting of $40,000 for the additional time put in by the coaching staffs of schools in the district.

Since a district study into finances is to incorporate this phase, with a report due in December, the trustees stipulated the extra pay program will be for but one year.

Coach Joseph McGrath of Jefferson High School, president of the Coaches' Association, addressed trustees, attempting to clarify their request for overtime pay.

The subject was given a le-

Glass Exit Of No Aid To Suspect

A Sacramento area man who plunged through a service station's plate glass window in an attempt to elude Pacifica patrolmen who were closing in on him was booked on burglary charges early Monday.

Pacifica Patrolman Orin Hargraves said he and fellow police officer Irvin Manley, acting on a tip from a fireman at central station near the Milagra and Oceana Boulevard Mohawk service station, arrested James Edward Goodpaster, 21, 3709 Twin Oaks Drive, Citrus Heights, at 12:25 a.m.

Officer Hargraves said Goodpaster apparently saw only Patrolman Manley approach the station and dove through the window in an unsuccessful attempt to get away. In the process, the suspect ran into the waiting hands of Hargraves, who said Goodpaster suffered a small cut on the top of the head.

Goodpaster, the officer said, had in his possession $21 in coin, allegedly taken from the Mohawk station's cashbox.

Goodpaster was spotted in the building by a fireman, who relayed his observation to police.

'Serramonte School Sites Need Study'

Serramonte school and park sites were discussed by the Daly City Planning Commission last Tuesday night, during a hearing on a tentative map for a portion of the huge new subdivision.

Commissioners took no action on the map, agreeing that locations of educational and recreational facilities and such matters as widths of streets should be studied by the city planning staff before any official action.

Present at the meeting was a spokesman for the South San Francisco Unified School District, which will serve most of the southern section of Serramonte.

The district has asked that locations for an elementary and a junior high school be selected, with the junior hign site preferably adjacent to a park.

In other action at the brief commission meeting, permission was approved for an illuminated sign at the New Westlake Market, 555 Knowles Avenue.

Laguna Trustees Approve Budget

A tentative budget of four and a quarter million dollars was approved last week by trustees of the Laguna Salada Union School District.

The budget, if it becomes final, would mean a tax rate hike of from 2 to 30 cents. The total amount is $4,332,718.

The bulk of that increase, according to assistant Superintendent John Munt, would go toward enrichment of seventh and eighth grade programs, inciuding new equipment and teachers to provide special services.

The tentative budget, which will allow the district to operate financially until a final one is approved in August, is now being checked by the county schools office for compliance with the law and completeness.

By July 20, trustees must produce a "publication budget" for presentation to the public. That budget will be the result of a thorough review of the tentative budget at the board's July 12 meeting.

On August 2, trustees will hold a public hearing on the publication budget, at which time members of the community will have an opportunity to make suggestions.

Adoption of the final 1966-67 budget is expected August 16.

Police Comment On Supreme Court Ruling

The Post is presenting another in-depth special report of the North County scene, this week a detailed look into the reaction of Peninsula law enforcement officers over the recent Supreme Court ruling on self-incrimination.

To get the real thoughts of lawmen throughout the area, Post reporter Frank LaPierre talked with high-ranking police officials—military as well as civilian—noting their reactions, comments and plans for living within the meaning of the ruling.

Bus Service Of Their Own For S.S.F. Citizens

By DENNIS WADE

South San Franciscans will have a regularly scheduled bus service to call their very own by this fall.

The news came in an order from the State Public Utilities Commission, which became effective this Sunday.

Under the order, El Camino Charter Lines, Inc., is granted a certificate of public convenience and need, under which it may operate buses over a specified route for a 180-day trial period.

The service will stretch from Bayshore Boulevard to the northern end of Westborough, connection with the Southern Pacific and Greyhound terminals.

The route will serve the downtown area, White Front and Brentwood shopping centers, and several schools.

Buses will operate on a five-day week, with eight round trips each day.

Proposed fares are 25 cents for adults, 15 cents for children and free rides for youngsters under six.

The route will take the bus from Airport Boulevard via Baden Avenue to Spruce, and thence to Alida Way, Country Club Drive, Dorado Way, Avalon Drive, Junipero Serra Boulevard, Westborough Boulevard, Olympic Drive, Shannon Drive, St. Cloud Drive, Oakmont Drive and King Drive to Callan Boulevard.

El Camino estimates that a trip will take about 30 minutes.

Trips will be timed to coincide with departures of greyhound buses and commuter trains.

A spokesman for the company said it would a few weeks before the service actually begins.

The firm has 30 days in which file written acceptance of its certificate with the PUC.

Within 120 days, service must begin.

The commission noted that there is presently no bus service whatsoever in the area to be covered by El Camino, and cited the need for public transportation that Northgate does not serve the area, and has not applied to do so.

Northgate presently provides service in the Daly City area, with a route into the Northern section of South San Francisco, away from the neighborhoods El Camino will travel.

In its application, El Camino

Beauty Grant For Pacifica Is Allocated

Congressman J. Arthur Younger announced a federal grant of $16,787 to the City of Pacifica to pay 50 per cent of the cost of several citywide beautification projects.

Total cost of the work will be $33,574, representing an increased expenditure over previous years.

Projects included, according to City Manager Karl Baldwin, will be planting, replacement of street trees, open space landscaping, park development in Fairmont and Pedro Valley; reforestation of Calera Creek Parkway in Vallemar district; center strip beautification in Pacific Manor, Manor Village and the Westview district.

Younger said that the funds are from the Housing and Urban Development Act passed last year.

Five Per Cent Hike in Pay For Teachers

A five per cent salary increase for teachers of the Jefferson Union High School District was approved by trustees last week in Daly City.

An earlier raise of only three per cent had been discussed, fol-

Safe Pry Job Fails–Thieves Cart It Away

When attempts to pry open a 400-pound safe failed at the El Camino Golf Club, 1035 Mission Road, early last Friday, thieves resorted to a more positive method—they hauled off the safe.

Manager Robert E. Smith told South San Francisco police technician Larry Ross the safe contained more than $1,200 cash, 1000 golf club passes and 1000 golf ball machine tokens.

The burglars forced their way into the clubhouse through a rear door.

With the aid of a wooden "sled" and blankets, the safe was moved from behind the club's bar to a waiting vehicle parked some 100 feet away on a golf putting green, according to police.

The sled and blankets were discarded at the scene and are now being examined by Ross.

North County Men Win Awards

Three San Mateans — members of the San Francisco State College faculty—have been selected for the initial California State Legislature Distinguished Teacher Award.

The award was founded this year to honor excellence in teaching.

The trio of winners, selected by their colleagues and students, includes Dr. Gerald Ballou, of 129 Skyline Drive, Daly City; Robert E. Gajdusek, of 39 Glenbrooke Drive, Hillsborough, and Dr. Eldon L. Modisette, of 370 Courtland Drive, San Bruno.

Doctor Ballou is a professor of chemistry and has been at the college since 1945. He is a noted authority in the chemistry field and has written extensively on the subject.

The student nomination from the college's School of Humanities went to Gajdusek, assistant professor of English, who joined the faculty only last fall.

Final selection for the annual award went to Doctor Modisette, Professor of History and Dean of the School of Behavioral and Social Sciences, for his outstanding contribution to the college.

The School of Education decided to place its award money in a memorial fund established for Dr. Arch Lang, Professor of Education, who died last April.

Hope Expressed Formal Trustee Probe Unnecessary

The five members of the Jefferson Elementary School District Board of Trustees met last night with representatives of several professional organizations, one of which has been asked to investigate the board.

The fact that everyone sat at the same table for two-and-a-half hours, someone suggested later, indicated that progress had been made.

The Jefferson trustees were publicly blasted last month by Michael Pennings, former president of the Jefferson Classroom Teachers' Association, who made several charges against the board and district administration in a public speech of resignation.

District Superintendent Frank Greenwood promptly fired back at Pennings, calling him "a very bitter young man since he was passed over for promotion by both myself and the previous administration."

Since then, public concern has arisen over Pennings' charges that the board holds unannounced meetings in violation of the Brown Act, and commits other procedural errors.

Rebuts Charges

Greenwood, who at first stated that he had no intention of issuing a point-by-point rebuttal to Pennings' statement, later did answer most of the charges concerning district actions.

The JCTA, still concerned, this month asked the California Teachers' Association to conduct an ethics study to completely investigate the situation.

Robert Reese, professional service consultant for the CTA, called last night's meeting.

Attending as well, were representatives of the California School Boards Association, the California Association of School Administrators and local and state principals' groups.

Marilyn Harris, president of the Jefferson Classroom Teachers' Association was also present, as were several members of that group.

Miss Harris explained that the JCTA, while not necessarily endorsing the charges, was concerned about them and desired a full airing. The association felt, she said, that could best be accomplished by an outside investigation.

Reese explained that the commission which would conduct the study for the CTA will not meet again until August, and pointed out that it might refuse to make a study altogether.

'Serve No Purpose'

But in the meantime, he said, "charges and counter-charges will serve no purpose, and will do the school system no good."

He asked for a "cease fire" until August, and further requested co-operation and joint efforts at answering Pennings.

In the meantime, CSBA field representative Jack Purcell and staff member of the various professional organizations will conduct informal inquiries into the situation, meeting with trustees, administrators and teachers and other interested parties.

If such informal talks resulted in understanding between the teachers group and the board, he suggested, a full ethics study might not be needed.

Dr. Harry McPherson of the CASA also volunteered to talk with individuals and groups from the district.

Can't Understand

McPherson said he could understand why a group of teachers might be reluctant about approaching their board and superintendent directly with serious questions about their conduct.

But the trustees seemed somewhat bewildered by the request for outside intervention, especially since everyone seemed to agree with Miss Harris that "good communication" exists between the JCTA and the board, and has at least since she took over from Pennings five weeks ago.

"We're perfectly satisfied with communications as they exist today," she said, but added "we do not want to be involved in studying our own board."

"It is possible," said board chairman Thomas Noonan, "that the teachers felt that there were some doors closed that in fact were always open."

Welcome Inquiries

With the request for and possibility of an ethics study now a fact, the trustees were unanimous in welcoming staff members of the several professional groups to conduct inquiries.

While any official board action must await the next regular meeting, members indicated they will individually co-operate in any effort to probe the situation.

Miss Harris said the JCTA would certainly be happy to help, too.

While any interviews conducted will be confidential, the staff members are expected to present their findings to the trustees and the JCTA as conclusions are reached.

Since the whole precedure is informal, no official reports are in prospect. Whatever recommendations are made, however, will also be presented to the CTA commission which will meet in August to consider whether to go ahead with the full ethics study.

Most of those present at the meeting joined the board in its hope that answers gained informally will eliminate the need for an involved, costly formal investigation, which would almost certainly cost the district a loss in prestige and public confidence.

Voyagers To Lead Service

This Sunday's worship service at the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, 377 Eighty-seventh Street, will be led by the Voyagers Mariners. Several members of the organization will participate in the service.

The sermon will be given by Dr. William Mason, whose subject will be "Citizens of Several Kingdoms." Others assisting in the service will be Ted Peceimer, Boris Stephen and William Thomas.

The Voyagers Mariners is an organization for all couples of the church. They meet on the first Saturday of the month with dinner preceding the meeting.

Sunday School is at the same hour as the worship service. This summer schedule of 10 a.m. will continue until September when the double sessions will resume.

The Reverend Herbert C. Tweedie is pastor of the church.

Pacifican Dies In Plane Crash

A Pacifica man died in the crah of two light planes that collided in the air near Livermore Monday. Five other men also were killed.

The two single-engine aircraft hit the ground about a mile apart. One exploded and burned, killing Jesse Smith of Livermore and Tony Arroyo of 235 Sunshine Street, Pacifica.

The other plane crashed in a field of lettuce, killing Judd Rose of Livermore, Geirge Rain of Pacific Grove and Richard and Yvonne Hardesty of San Jose.

An eyewitness to the collision told sheriff's deputies one plane appeared to have struck the other from below.

Officials could not immediately say who the pilots were.

Deputies said a Civil Aeronautics Board investigation into the crash has been launched. Both planes had taken off from Livermore Airport shortly before the crash.

The plane carrying four victims crashed in a beet field. A Cessna, it was smashed into bits, authorities said.

The Pleasanton fire department said the planes apparently collided about 5:30 p.m. about two miles south of Highway 50, between Pleasanton and Livermore.

Early reports of two accidents "within minutes of each other" indicated the crashes might have been separate incidents, but the eyewitness report later cleared that matter.

The single engine plane carrying Arroyo crashed into a tomato field owned by the Henry J. Kaiser Corporation, less than one mile from Livermore airport.

Rescue units from the Pleasanton fire department reported the plane erupted into a ball of fire shortly after smashing into the field—some half mile from the other aircraft.

Pieces of the tail section were found one-quarter mile away, indicating it had possibly been sheared off in flight.

Largest section of the burned plane was the airframe containing the burned bodies of Arroyo and Smith. Smaller pieces of both aircraft were scattered over a large area.

Firefighters used water "fog" to extinguish the burning plane before it could be entered and the victims removed, a Pleasanton fire official said.

Cut Nose

Mrs. Mary E. Backup, 42, of 216 San Felipe Avenue, San Bruno, suffered a cut nose when the car she was driving swerved off Huntington Avenue and end up in a roadside ditch last week. Witnesses said the car was driving without headlights and "drove off the road."

Police Probe One Car, 2 Drivers' Crash

An accident at a Standard gasoline station Sunday has San Bruno police scratching their heads and thumbing through the motor vehicle code book.

Police said the "routine" accident involved a car going out of control at the gas station service station and hitting an oil change rack, causing slight damage to both the stand and the car.

But what has got police up "in the air" is the fact that the car had two drivers—at the same time.

Max Dehes, 61, of 439 Avila Street, San Francisco, drove into the station shortly after 2 p.m. Sunday and asked attendant Joseph N. Jenkins, 20, to check noise in the rear of the car.

Dehes asked his two passengers, seated in the rear, to wait inside the station while he and Jenkins took the car for a short drive around the block.

The passengers, Dr. Leon Kolb, 75, and his wife Hilde, 66, of 1814 Pacific Street, San Francisco, were leaving the car as attendant Jenkins opened the front door and started to enter.

As Dehes slid across the front seat his left foot jammed down on the accelerator, causing the car to jump ahead, police reported.

Scattering the rear seat passengers to the left and right, and with Jenkins hanging onto the steering wheel, the car roared some 200 feet across the station's parking ramp and plowed into the oil rack.

Police think the accident cause rests with Dehes, whose foot was on the accelerator.

But Jenkins was in the driver's seat with his hands on the steering wheel police report.

So far, the only sure reasoning police have is the fact that the car was involved.

D.C. Marine Suicide In Los Gatos

A Daly City Marine Sergeant who, his wife said, had threatened to kill himself three weeks ago, apparently made good that threat early yesterday morning. But there were some odd circumstances.

The body of Sgt. Grafton Dickerson, 25, of 49 Tarawa Road, was found at 3:30 p.m. by Santa Clara County sheriff's deputies in the locked trunk of his small automobile in the Los Gatos area near Highway 17.

Three weeks ago Dickerson had told his wife that he had gone to the Sacramento area and, though he had cut a hole in the floor of the car's trunk, he did not try to asphyxiate himself, she reported.

Yesterday, Dickerson was found under circumstances similar to those his wife described.

A hose had been connected between the exhaust pipe of the vehicle and the hole in the floor of the trunk, distributing carbon monoxide to the trunk.

There were some factors that puzzled authorities. The key to the car was found in the pocket of the victim.

And the ignition was in the "off" position when the car was found. Later, it was determined that the car had been "hot wired."

The sheriff's report analyzed this situation as a "defective switch," and labeled the death a "definite suicide." No foul play was involved, the report said.

Coach Staff at Jefferson High Win Extra Time Pay

ngthy introduction by Edward D. Morgan, district superintendent, reading a court ruling sent to the board by Deputy District Attorney Lois Scampini.

Gist of the ruling was that a teacher is employed to do any assignment within his credential area and that the fixing of a teacher's curriculum is a prerogative of the district board.

Coach McGrath said that he had tried in association with the school board to establish a program stating specifically what the board wanted the teacher to do, without results.

"It all boils down," continued McGrath, "to the fact that there is no direction as to how many hours of work before or after school the coach must do. It's left to the coach's discretion. A coach may put in a lot of time this way, and is it fair not to be reimbursed?"

In his action to get recognition for himself and fellow physical educators, he thought their ideas should be aired, but "it is ridiculous to say that we are threatening the board." He said the board had turned down a previous request for pay arrangement "because the board was caught in the middle and didn't want to approve it."

McGrath said that many other districts pay for this extra time put in by coaches. "Extra pay for extra work certainly seems fair to ask for." He hoped that any irritation his action had caused the board would not detract from this underlying principle.

Hike in Pay For Teachers

lowing a recommendation by district administrators that the full five per cent be denied.

However, District Superintendent Edward D. Morgan reversed his previous stand and acknowledged the "increase is in line with other district salaries and is in line with the cost of living ratio."

Hit and Run Count Lodged

A Massachusetts man was jailed in Daly City last Wednesday night, after his 1966 compact car allegedly was involved in a hit-run accident with a truck.

Winship B. Moody, 23, was charged with drunk driving.

Officers said his car collided with a truck owned by William Maxwell, 1268 South Mayfair Avenue, Daly City, at Alemany Boulevard and Dorchester.

Neither Moody nor Maxwell was injured in the accident, police said.

A Bus Service of Their Own for S.S.F. Citizens

said that it may need subsidization to make a success of its service, and added that the Westborough Homeowners improvement Association has indicated that it might provide aid if necessary.

The cost of running one bus five days a week is estimated at about $700 a month by the firm.

A second bus would be purchased if patronage warranted, the company said.

In the event that the transit route is financially successful and sound, it is expected that the 180-day trial period would be made permanent.

Scientists Talk Of Planet Life

ONE of the attributes of a successful scientist is his ability to see far into the future. Time may prove his sight faulty, but in a surprising number of times a scientist with a good grasp of cause and effect, a knowledge of contemporary technology and a logical mind can predict events and discoveries of the future.

A favorite topic of discussion wherever scientists congregate these days is certain to be the possibility of life on other planets. Most of them agree it exists, but where and in what form remains the intriguing form of discussion.

How to contact such life was the topic most discussed at a symposium of 300 scientists in Anaheim recently. Following the theme of the conference, "The Search for Extraterrestrial Life," much of the discussion centered on means of locating and communicating with other intelligent civilizations.

EVEN with a long-term picture of success before them, many of the scientists found slightly unnerving the prospect that when another civilization is discovered, there is an excellent prospect that it may be superior in intelligence to our own.

But nobody suggested calling off the whole thing.

The Marquee

Music Is Majestic

Barbara Bladen

One hundred and fifteen musicians filled the orchestra shell of Frost Amphitheatre at Stanford University last week to play the opening concert of the Arts Festival. Within five minutes, they had filled the night air with the most beautiful sound we've heard in a long while.

Dressed in white dinner coats and live red carnation boutonnieres, the women in matching white lace blouses, the Orchestre De La Suisse Romande performed as royalty before an appreciative audience of 3000, who gave them a richly deserved standing ovation.

Hailed as the most recorded orchestra in Europe, they play as technical geniuses invoking a musical majesty that auspiciously inaugurated the season. Ernest Ansermet, now 83 years old and due to retire next year, is a king among conductors. He has reigned over one of the world's foremost orchestras since he formed it in 1918. A slightly built man who has absolute control over his highly acclaimed orchestra, he resembles a white bearded rabbi as he hovers over the podium invoking the magic of music.

The importance of their first visit to America will stand as a tribute to Stanford University's resourcefulness in bringing them to America from their home base in Geneva and heavy European concert and recording committments. While it was the orchestra's debut, Maestro Ansermet has been in this country many times, the most recent as conductor at the inaugural concert at New York's Lincoln Center.

The American and Swiss national anthems opened the program after which the festival's theme, "Twentieth Century Innovations," took shape with the presentation of Arthur Honegger's (1892-1955) "Liturgical" three-part Symphony No. 3.

Since the program included both Claude Debussy (1862-1918) and Igor Stravinsky (1882-) whose works are familiar to even the most cursory music lover, Honegger served as a fitting introduction

ANSERMET IS A SEVERE critic of "technique-conscious moderns who submerge art in technical complexity." His orchestra has achieved the incomparable marriage of artistic interpretation and technical proficiency. Their sound is beautiful, clean and inspiring. As magnificent as their recordings are, hearing them in the clean night air of the outdoor theatre is a truly memorable experience.

While Stravinsky and Debussy have been accepted by the traditionalists and are included in standard repertoire, hardly even deserving the avant garde tag any longer, Honegger may be considered the innovator of the program. He, more than the other two, upholds the festival's "bold and inviting" program concept.

The composer was considered a revolutionary when as a member of Les Six, with composer Francis Poulenc (1899-1964) he took up the cry against Romanticism's pomp and sententiousness. Not entirely objective in the vein of Les Six's concept, his short work embodies a strong emotional potential.

The evening was breathless as the waning glow of sunset illuminated the fern-edged stage for the closing selection of the first half. Debussy's "Jeux," a dance poem, is lyrically enchanting and was played with graceful purity of tone.

Violinist Sacha Belin (with the orchestra for 25 years) and cellist Charles Muench, nephew of the famous conductor, explained that the orchestra had to rehearse for these concerts diligently. It had been ten years since they played "Jeux" and are learning Aaron Copeland and Roger Sessions, the two American composers, for the first time.

SLATED FOR A BUS TOUR of San Francisco today with dinner in Chinatown and a reception at the Swiss Consulate, the musicians are greatly impressed with Stanford and the Bay Area. They've had two rehearsals a day since arriving Sunday but have already been driven to the East Bay, the ocean and across the Golden Gate Bridge. Only 14 speak any English at all. The elegant reception that followed the concert was conducted mostly in French and German. Maestro Kurt Adler and his wife, members of the consular corps, members of the S.F. Symphony and Mrs. Josef Krips, wife of its conductor (he is currently conducting opera in Vienna) attended.

Ansermet selected Stravinsky's "Petrouchka Ballet Suite" for the closing number. Here again he displayed his enormous interpretive artistry. Recognized as one of the finest interpreters of Stravinsky, he was Sergei Diaghilev's musical director with the Ballets Russes for eight years. We reaped the benefit of these acclaims and experience in a masterful and memorable opening night.

Peninsula Lawmen 'Pooh-Pooh' Court Ruling Adversity: 'Over Exaggerated'

Period Of Transition 'Expected'

By FRANK LaPIERRE

While other States are expressing "regret" and "disappointment" over the U.S. Supreme Court's recent ruling regarding the use of criminal confessions in court, Peninsula law enforcement agencies pooh-pooh the comments and, for the most part, dismiss them as "overly exaggerated."

"Like any new set of rules there is a transitional period where certain difficulties can be expected and where adjustments must be made," South San Francisco Police Chief John Fabbri told The Post last week.

And contrary to reports sweeping the nation, these adjustments are not impossible, according to Chief Fabbri.

The South San Francisco police department began preparing for this "transitional period" some ten years ago following the April 1955 California Supreme Court's Cahan versus California ruling regarding the search and seizure of criminal suspects.

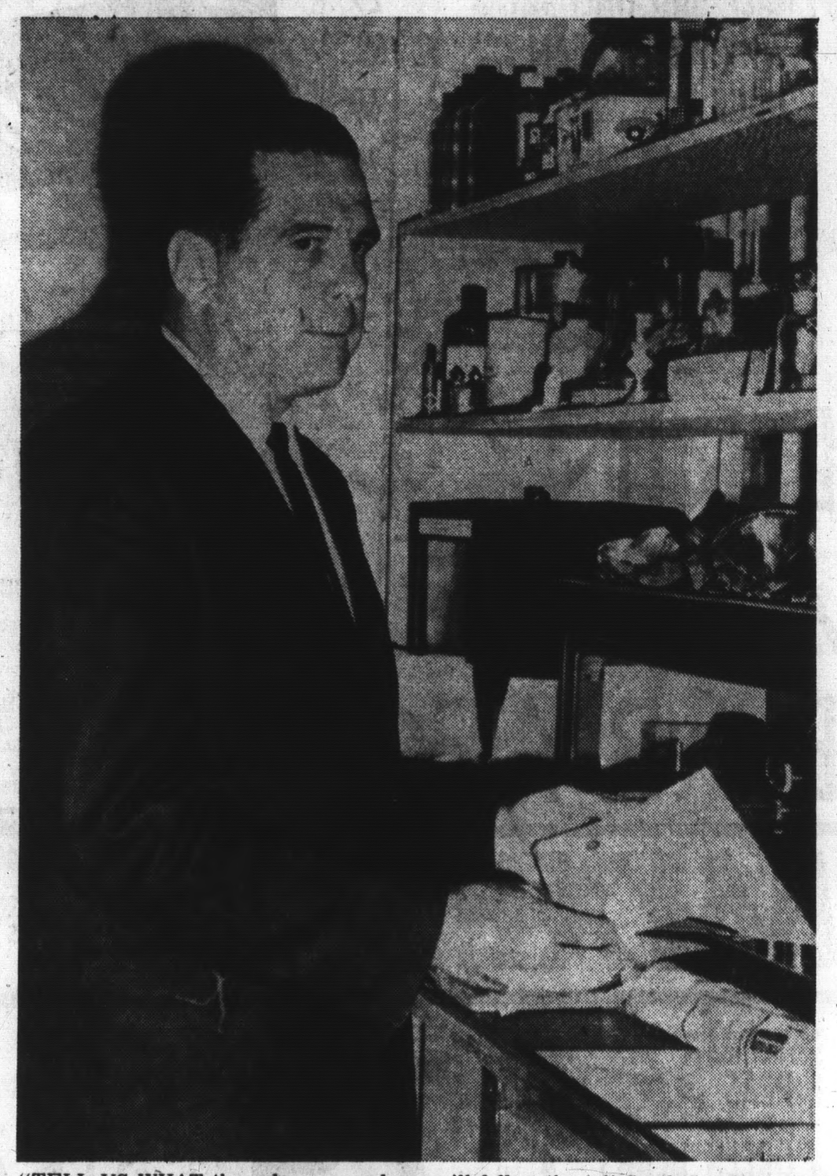
"THERE were many of us (law enforcement agencies) who foresaw this Supreme Court ruling coming a long time ago," Chief Fabbri recalled. "It did not come overnight. From the initial Cahan decision until the recent Miranda versus Arizona decision there have been many others."

But the "pivotal" decisions handed down by the U.S. and California supreme courts have clearly pointed out the course the law must take in dealing with the apprehension of suspected criminals and the gathering of evidence.

Less than seven years after the precedent-setting "Cahan Decision," the U.S. Supreme Court in 1962 supported the Mapp versus Ohio suit concerning search and seizure—thus establishing a precedent for every court in the nation to follow.

In the June 1964 decision the U.S. Supreme Court ruled in favor of the complaintant in the "Escobedo versus Illinois" case concerning the admission of confessions as evidence in a criminal trial.

By the time the much-publicized "People versus Dorado" case was ruled on in January of last year, prosecutors around the country were "tearing their hair out."



"TELL US WHAT the rules are and we will follow them," South San Francisco Police Chief John Fabbri said last week when asked his opinion of the recent U.S. Supreme Court ruling on the admission of confessions in court. Fabbri advoctes modern police techniques rather than the "brawn over brain" methods of the past. (Post Photo)

The final U.S. Supreme Court decision, designed to protect the rights of criminal suspects, became effective June 13 and was simply titled "Miranda versus Arizona."

What exactly is the "Miranda Decision" and why have law enforcement officers in most other states reportedly expressed bewilderment at the move and charged that the U.S. Supreme Court is "handcuffing" them?

The decision merely sets a precedent for what is, and is not, admissible as oral evidence in a criminal court— a law under which California police have managed to work for the past two years.

THE SUSPECT must be clearly warned at the time of his arrest that:

a) anything he (or she) says may be used against him in court,

b) that he has a Constitutional right to say nothing that may incriminate him (5th Amendment to the Constitution)

c) and the fact that he is entitled to have his lawyer present during questioning by police.

"So what else is new?" a U.S. Air Force legal officer countered when asked how this ruling would affect the military (Supreme Court decisions apply to both Federal and State).

Under the Uniform Code of Military Justice, article 31, the procedure for informing an individual of his rights is clearly spelled out, the officer said.

"In one form or another (prior to the UCMJ enactment) the military law was set by the Articles of War this self-incrimination code has been around since before World War Two," he said.

The ruling, which was a 5-4 Supreme Court decision, is workable, according to Robert E. Carey, chief criminal deputy for the District Attorney's Office, County of San Mateo.

"All it requires is a harder application of good police work," Carey, a veteran of 17 years in the law enforcement field, said. "But we must be careful to draw the line so victims won't lose their rights while protecting the rights of a suspect."

Where it previously required three men on a certain criminal case, departments now need double that figure, Chief Fabbri said.

Fabbri is one of eight California law officers selected to become part of the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and the Administration of Justice. He thinks the answer to "good law enforcement" rests with the people.

'Decision Didn't Come Overnight'—Foreseen By Most Area Agencies

"We deal with 14 per cent of the population," Fabbri pointed out. "The type of laws that are applied is dictated by the wants of society.

"For example, if society wants a higher caliber of police officer they must be willing to pay a competitive wage scale to get and keep him. The same for other phases of law enforcement," he said.

TWO THINGS are present in any crime: opportunity and desire, Chief Fabbri revealed.

"We cannot eliminate desire because we can't possibly read people's minds, but we can eliminate the opportunity," Chief Fabbri explained.

He said street lights could be installed in darkened areas, thus discouraging criminal activity. Shrubbery that hangs close to sidewalks, screening criminals from sight, could also be re-located.

"These things cost money and people must first be willing to pay for these changes," Chief Fabbri said, adding, "Law enforcement is only as good as the wants, standards demanded, and the support given, by the society it protects."

Both Fabbri and Carey rate California's law enforcement agencies far ahead of the rest of the nation.

In order to maintain efficient law enforcement in the face of the constantly rising crime rate (76 per cent in the past 12 years) California police are seeking new, faster methods of investigation and apprehension of criminals, including the gathering of evidence that may be used later to aid in the prosecution of a suspect.

Among the "new breed" of law enforcement officer Fabbri and Carey refer to is Police Technician Larry Ross, a veteran of eight years with the South San Francisco Department.

Ross agrees that it takes "a whole lot more" than a suspect's confession to successfully prosecute a criminal in court.

Physical evidence gathered at the scene of a crime must not only be preserved, but also presented during the later trial of a suspect along with expert interpretive opinions. The less important the suspect's written statements are, the more significant the physical evidence is, according to Ross.

AMIDST a conglomeration of test tubes, miscroscopes, axe handles wrapped in an old newspaper, cameras and lenses for every imaginable purpose (Ross is considered an expert photographer) the mild-mannered Ross attempts to analyze whatever evidence is gathered at the crime scene for the purpose of apprehension of a suspect. This material may be later presented in court.

Ross is rather unique in his field—there are only three other "technicians" on the Peninsula, most of which have been trained by Ross. He has a gun that he probably will never use; a uniform that he may or may not wear (at his own descretion) and a thorough knowledge of his work.

Special Report

New methods in crime detection and suspect apprehension are constantly in demand. Many are now being field tested.

Among the latter is a facsimile machine capable of transmitting a crime report almost instantaneously from certain key locations around the city to headquarters, and then relayed to law enforcement officers throughout the area minutes after a crime is committed.

New law enforcement systems and a higher caliber of officer are required today," Chief Fabbri said. "The officer of today is often a college graduate or studying to complete his education on the college level."

Each of Chief Fabbri's officers carries a small 3 x 5 card which spells out exactly what to say to a suspect when he is apprehended.

"Most of my men know the card's message from memory," the chief said.

Asked how the courts could all but throw out oral admissions of a ssuspected criminal and allow police to either draw blood from the veins of a motor vehicle operator or suspend his license for six months, deputy Carey said the rulings were not related.

"THE 'self incrimination' clause is a constitutinal right while the implied consent ruling concerning the blood test is not," Carey revealed.

Perhaps Supreme Court Chief Justice Earl Warren, whose opinion guided the ruling through the courts, has been studying the effectiveness of California's law enforcement agencies who have been successfully working with the "confession decisions" for many months.

As deputy Carey pointed out, police have in the past arrested suspects which have later been successfully prosecuted "without ever having made an oral confession of the crime."

The Book Shelf

American Way Of Doing Things

Samuel Chandler

FOR A MONTH that contains the Fourth of July, I recommend "the Story of America," edited by Edwin Emery. It is an anthology of newspaper articles: the first having been published in 1960, the last in 1965.

From the first entry to the last it is a testament that the American way of doing things calls for free discussion of all issues, however insidious, through the press and in open debates. It illustrates with bold strokes that would-be censors and character assassins have been and are out of the mainstream of American politics.

The American who quoted Shakespeare to describe a political battle hit the nail on the head. "O Sir, we quarrel in print; by the book." The book allows retorts and quips; replies, reproofs, counterchecks, and Shakespeare said even lies that may be denied.

In America, at least, the book does not allow innuendos and slurs. Purges are out, infiltrating civic, educaional and relious organizations are taboo—so is attacking an opponent's family. In short America is a land of fair play.

THIS TRADITION started early in Colonial times. As "The Story of America" illustrates the first newspapers failed because the editors voluntarily trotted to the authorities for advance censorship and used the legend "published by authority." The tradition of the right to debate and to question grew larger in 1721, when James Franklin began publishing his New England Courant. Here was a colonial editor who dared to print in defiance of authority and to establish in America the right to print.

James Franklin's famous brother, Benjamin, led in an uprising that established the climate that allowed John Dickinson to write his "Letters from a Farmer in Pennsylvania" and Thomas Pain, his book "Crisis" which appeared as a series in a newspaper called the Pennsylvania Packet. George Washington took to the press to appeal for support.

These and many other items in newspapers that were imperfectly printed, crowded and poorly displayed, led to discussions and debates that made the American Revolution possible.

Through the pages of "The Story of America," the record of public debate is illustrated —you see it in the account of the Lincoln and Douglas Debates; in the reaction to Daniel Webster's unpopular stand in support of his old rival, Henry Clay, during the debate over the Compromise of 1850; in the way Americans disapproved of John Brown's high-handed raid of Harper's Ferry.

YOU CAN SEE the American Way in stories of such campaign tactics as Lincoln's calm statements from the porch of his old-fashioned house; William Jennings Bryans and Harry Truman's whistle-stops; Charles Evans Hughes' scholarly statements.

You can find it in the way Americans stopped to pay tribute to leaders who had died and to honor heroes in unpopular wars. You can see it in the sports stories where good humor and graphic words describe America's pastimes.

You can see it in the editorials and front page stories of the Communist Party's threat and of the Nazi's futile efforts to persuade American opinion with their German-American bund.

"The Story of America" is the record of a people. It portrays them at work and at play; at war and at peace. Its major defect is its brevity—each page is merely an excerpt of a whole newspaper—yet there is enough to give the reader an appreciation of a great country and a great people.

Better Business

C.O.D. Swindle —Summer Hoax

Lorene Beasley

THE HOUSEWIFE, business and professional man are plagued with unsolicited and some times dangerous (because of its accessibility to children) merchandise. The Better Business Bureau has for years condemned the practice of sending unordered goods through the mail and has advised the consumer in its bulletins and public warnings of their rights and obligations regarding unwanted and unsolicited merchandise.

A congressional committee is at present discussing the control of such merchandise. Two states, New York and Illinois, have already taken action.

Effective September 1, 1966, New York state will not only prohibit the forwarding and delivery of unwanted merchandise, but will permit the recipients to plead the fact that they did not order the items as a complete defense to any action brought by the sender for the payment of the goods.

MUCH of the unordered goods, generally cheap items, are sent through the mail in conjunction with a charity appeal. The percentage of the dollar to an organization which server a genuine philanthropic purpose runs about twenty per cent or less.

An illegal practice is the sending of unordered C.O.D. merchandise through the mail. Promoters scan the obituary columns and send goods out C.O.D. to the deceased's home, hoping that the widow will assume the merchandise had been ordered.

A successful summer hoax is the C.O.D. swindle. The swindler calls at a vacationing family's home with a large package.

Receiving no answer, he calls on the neighbors and proceeds to impress them with the importance of the package. The neighbor many times will learn, when the vacationers return, that no such package had been ordered. When opened the package may be a neatly wrapped package of old magazines or newspapers.

THE FOLLOWING Better Business Bureau guidelines for unordered merchandise are: (1) Recipients are not generally obliged to acknowledge, return or pay for (unless used) unordered merchandise. (2) Recipients of unordered merchandise are obliged to surrender it to the shipper or his agent if called for in person within a reasonable period of time. The recipient may demand the payment of storage charges.

Some shippers threaten people into remitting. Dunning letters making threats to injure person, property, or reputation of the addressee are violations of the so-called extortion law.

Louanne's Datebook

By LOUANNE HEATH

ANOTHER summer special column today and again it will be dealing with one of the special people who make this area one of the nicest places in which to live.

MRS. JOHN MADROSEN, Gertrude to her friends, and the summer teacher for the Head Start classes, is a human dynamo! Perhaps, if she stretches up as tall as she can, she may measure 5-feet in height. (She is one of the few people with whom my five-feet and one-inch make me feel tall.) Her frame is small and dripping wet she could weigh 100 pounds but her diminutive size is in no way an indication of her energy or the amount of work she can perform.

WITH ADULTS she is organized and businesslike, with a direct and honest approach which wins her an army of devoted helpers and passionate supporters. She can be brusque, (I once attended a meeting where she informed a visitor that he might speak for two minutes, and when he had spoken for a minute and one half she rose and went to his side to emphasis the finality of her restriction,) but no one takes offense with her for strict adherence to agendas for they know that she has important things to say about her greatest passion—the pre-school education of children.

Mrs. Madrosen and her greatest fan, husband John, live in Westlake with their youngest son, Clark, and a huge and lovable golden retriever, Bing. They have an older son, John who is married and lives with his wife and two small children in Oregon.

THE MADROSEN menfolk are proud of the work Gertrude has done and of her new position as summer instructor for the Jefferson Elementary School district's Head Start program.

"My entire family has been active in helping with the work that I do with the nursery school I helped to found at our church, Mrs. Madrosen explains with a look of pride and gratitude which bespeaks a close family spirit.

Less than half a dozen years ago Mrs. Madrosen convinced the officers of her church, Lakeside Presbyterian Church, that there was a great need for pre-school education and she was permitted to organize and begin classes in the Sunday School wing during the week.

Today the school is filled and parents wishing to register their offspring in the nonprofit, nonsectarian classes must place their names on a waiting list. During the fall and winter over 90 moppets between the ages of two and a half and five years come under her wing weekly. Shopping or walking down a street, Mrs. Madrosen seldom fails to meet with a child who has been in one of her nursery school classes or has been in a Sunday school class she has taught.

HOW did the pre-school education become such a passion with this delightful lady? She explains that her early contact with teaching was all in Christian Education where she showed such proficiency that she served in a number of regional positions and was a member of the Leader of Leaders corp, a group of expert teachers who traveled about from church to church helping with the training of new teachers and assisting with the formulation of new programs.

The more involved she became in this volunteer work the more she felt the need for additional formal training herself and so she obtained her credential in Early Childhood Education from the College of Marin.

With 10 years of teaching experience behind her, Mrs. Madrosen has strong feelings about what gives her the greatest personal satisfaction.

Pre-school education in its entirety! She exclaims, "Just being able to help a little child enjoy a happy and relaxed nursery school experience," she continued.

HELPING a child to feel accepted by other children and adults is another pleasurable experience for her.

While children and their early training is the love of her life. Mrs. Madrosen learned long ago that teachers must make their voices heard on the administrative level if curriculums are to be developed which will be of greatest benefit to the students. For this reason her name appears on the roles of numerous committees and boards and she is an officer in the American Association for Childhood Education in Daly City.

When the opportunity arose for the Jefferson Elementary School District to receive funds from the state and federal government for pre-school education for youngsters who might otherwise be unprepared for kindergarten her strength and talents were immediately made available to those hoping to convince the school district of the wisdom fo applying for the money to start the program.

SHE WAS one of those who attended meetings of the board of trustees to present the case for compensatory education and, when approval was finally given, she was the one called upon to teach the pilot classes which began in May.

The Head Start program is supported by the local district with funds from the Federal Office of Economic Opportunity and the Department of Compensatory Education of the State of California, Mrs. Madrosen explained.

The goal of the program is to locate children who need such pre-school training but who might never receive it because of lower family income.

According to Mrs. Madrosen, she collects the children from their homes in the morning and takes them to school where they begin the day by taking part in some type of creative activity designed to stretch their imaginations and aid them with self expression. Creative activity is followed by outdoor free play and then a structured period. Inside, once more, the children settle down for a restful story time and a music period.

HUNGRY minds are always accompanied by hungry bodies so every nursery school sets aside a portion of each day for a snack and a rest, the busy teacher explained.

As vital a figure as Mrs. Madrosen is, she remains an extremely modest woman and gives considerable credit to those who help her. In the Head Start program Mrs. Howard Arneson is the assistant teacher and Miriom Moss is the teacher aid. The three work in close harmony with the 25 students in their classes.

Lawrence Sheppard, the director of the compensitory education program in Daly City has recently announced that classes will continue through the summer at General Pershing School and anyone who would like to see the program or meet Mrs. Madrosen in her natural element may do so by calling PL 5-9765 to arrange have more information about the Head Start Program or who wishes to enroll a child should

Rummage Sale Set

Members of the Riordan Guild will have a busy summer formulating plans for two major upcoming events this early fall.

William Essig, the .Guild's president, announced a Rummage Sale will be held at Riordan High School on September 24.

This will be a first for the Guild, but many of its members have worked on previous sales of this type.

Clothing, furniture, jewelry, household items can be used for the sale. A city-wide pick up has been arranged by the chairman, Mrs. Victor Dowdle.

Mrs. Roland S. Gehre, of San Bruno, has been named chairman of the St. Veronica's Women's Club annual Fashion Show, according to Women's Club President Mrs. Michael O'Rielly. The Fashion Show will be held on October 8 at the Cabana Hotel, Palo Alto. Mrs. Gehre has asked Mrs. Peter Rossi, of South San Francisco, to serve as co-chairman.

Planning Full Season In Advance Voted By Actors

Programming for a full season ahead was voted by The Spindrift Playhouse at its meeting last week.

Plans for presentation of a variety of shows during the year were discussed by the board of directors. The group met with those desiring to direct and help select plays.

At the Friday meeting, Dennis Walsh presented a reading of a one-act satire. Vera Perrier showed her color motion pictures of rehearsal for the Playhouse's recent production of "Burning Bright."

Revision of the Playhouse constitution also was discussed. The Playhouse will meet again at 8 p.m. on Friday, at the Sharp Park library, Palmetto and Hilton, Pacifica.

A series of workshop classes started this week with makeup as the subject. Participants practiced on themselves with "straight" makeup technique designed to enhance their own features and make them seen readily from a distance.

The classes are offered free of charge by The Spindrift Playhouse. Anyone interested is invited, said Robert McGouldrick, president of the group. Nathaniel Marks is instructor. Classes meet at the library Tuesdays, 8 p.m.

The Playhouse have announced tentative dates in October for a program of one-act plays, McGouldrick said. The governing board, meeting informally, added January and May of next year for other productions during the season ahead. The board also discussed scheduling studio offerings between regular performances.

Studio presentation will be free to the public. They will feature audience participation in critique and discussion after each show. "This plan is designed to improve The Spindrift Playhouse performances and enlarge our continuing education in the theatre arts," McGouldrick said.

Daly City Auxiliary Of Cancer Society Meets

The Daly City Auxiliary Unit of the American Cancer Society, meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Max Wahl, reviewed events of the past year.

The unit's accomplishments were studied with the idea of accelerating activities in the full, when the group will hold its next meeting and elect new officers to start a new year.

Mrs. M. Jordan, coordinator for San Mateo County Auxiliary Units, commended the group for its contributions to the American Cancer program. She particularly referred to a letter sent to the county office by the wife of a Daly City patient, which stated in part "I want you and all the kind volunteers who represent your branch of the American Cancer Society to know that I could never ever express sufficiently to you in any manner my sincere gratitude for what you are doing to help my husband. . . . The facilities granted my husband in being transported back and forth to the doctor and hospital, and the supplies you are furnishing him, and the moral support you are giving him. (we knowing that we have some one to call on), are more than thanked for."

The American Cancer Society will have an educational booth at the San Mateo County Fair in August staffed by members of the various auxiliary units. Persons interested in assisting the program and joining this group may do so by contacting Mrs. Max Wahl.

Mrs. Estrem Sings At Concert Of G.G.P. Band

Mrs. Phyllis Estrem, lyric soprano, appeared as guest soloist with Ralph Murray, and the Golden Gate Park Band, July 3 in a special park band concert.

For her park debut, Mrs. Estrem sang Indian Love Call, and Summertime, with encores of I Could Have Danced All Night, from My Fair Lady, and One Kiss, by Romberg.

A diminutive and attractive brunette, Phyllis has been a student of Voice Workshop, taught by Patti Stolz in adult education classes for two years. She has also been presented at a special soloist at the recent Spring Concert, June 3, with the Community Chorus, and has appeared on several shows throughout the peninsula recently, as a protege of Mr. Stolz.

Phyllis, in addition to being a busy Westlake housewife, and mother of two active youngsters, is administratrix for the welfare and pension fund of the Floor Covering Industry, with offices in San Francisco. She is also an accomplished pianist.

Quarterly Meeting At San Bruno

The regular quarterly business meeting of the Westside Baptist Church will be held at 2322 Crestmoor Drive, San Bruno, at 7 p.m. today. The evening will begin with a dessert banquet, followed by a devotional period, including singing of choruses and hymns.

Two main orders of business will be the election by the church of a sixth deacon to the existing deacon board, and revision of the existing constitution, per recommendations by the constiution committee, and action taken at the annual meeting in April.

Women's Bible Class will meet at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at the parsonage, 3370 Longview Drive, San Bruno. Mrs. Robert Anderson is the teacher.

Tomorrow night at seven, the Girls' Missionary Guild is to meet at the home of Guild Director Mrs. Ann Besser, 500 Del Monte Avenue, South San Francisco.

Sunday morning, Church Bible School will convene at 9:45 o'clock with 12 Bible-centered, age-graded classes. During the class period, Pastor Donnelly will continue the pastor's class, for prospective church members.

"Man's Judgment, God's Commendation," is the topic chosen by Pastor Donnelly for the 11 a.m. morning worship hour message. Special music will be a vocal duet, "It Took a Miracle," by the pastor and Mr. Swedborg. Mrs. Jeanne King will play the organ.

Sunday afternoon, members and friends of the church are invited to a family outing at the Portola State Park. A picnic dinner will be held at 4 p.m. followed by recreation and fellowship and a vesper service, Pastor Donnelly, delivering a devotional message, "Purposeful Delay."

Westside Baptist Church, affiliated with the Baptist General Conference, holds its Sunday Services at 222 Crestmoor Drive, San Bruno. The church office is at 370 Longview Drive, San Bruno.

Concert Set For Quartet

The Kristmenn Quartet will present a concert at Our Redeemer's Lutheran Church, South San Francisco, on July 18.

The concert, which begins at 8 p.m., will feature chorales, plain songs, Negro spirituals, and hymn-tunes.

This is the second summer that the Quartet has toured the West and Midwest presenting concerts in Lutheran churches.

The four are May graduates of St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minnesota, the largest of the American Lutheran Church colleges.

There is no admission charge for the concert, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Pastor Returns From Conclaves

Walter Stram, minister, plans to speak at both the 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. services of the Peninsula Church of Christ, Hillside Boulevard and "F" Street, Colma, on Sunday after attending two conventions in the East.

Bethel Church Members Continue 'Love' Topics

For several weeks the congregation of Bethel Church have been studying the subject "Learning to Love in the Home" with various topics such as "A, B, C's of Love," "Winning Your Children to Christ," "The Elements of a Happy Home," "Authority and Discipline in the Home," "Honesty in the Home," and "The Working Mother." The topic tonight will be on the "Marriage Vows".

During tonight's lesson the husbands and wives will be able to review their vows in reference to the scriptural stament and practical application to life.

The young people will be able to realize the seriousness of the eternal wedding vows and the responsibilities they assume by taking the vow before God and man.

All married couples present will be given an opportunity to renew their wedding vows as a climax to this series of lessons.

Pastor Banning reports that there has been an enthusiastic response from all age groups to this series of lessons and many have reported that they have received help by gaining insight and strength in handling problems that occur in the home.

The public is invited to Bethel's Bible study at 7:30 p.m. each Wednesday at the church.

Bethel is located on Higgins Way and Adobe Dr. in the Linda Mar District of Pacifica.

Vernon K. McLellan, executive director of Sound of Youth Inc., will be the guest speaker and musician at the Youth Crusade in Pacifica to be held at Terranova High School in the Cafetorium July 12-15 and at White Field July 16 at 7:30 p.m.

"Mr. Mac" is a native of Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada. He was graduated from John Oliver High School and Trinity College of Music, London, England. He also studied at the University of British Columbia.

While a teen-ager, he won several music and public speaking awards and was the guest violinist, with his brother, with the Canadian Broadcasting Symphony Orchestra, playing the two-violin concerto of Johann Sebastian Bach.

For six years he edited youth magazines including the Youth for Christ Magazine which was named the "Outstanding Publication of 1959" by the Evangelical Press Association. He served as youth pastor of the interdenominational church, Calvary Temple, Denver, Colorado, for five years.

During his years of service among youth, McLellan has traveled extensively in speaking engagements at conventions, conferences, youth rallies, high schools, churches, clubs, etc. He has written for many religious magazines and authored the daily devotional diary, Teen Tune-Up Time.

The Christian Youth of Pacifica are working respectfully to make this a successful crusade. They would like to have every youth organization in Pacifica represented in attendance at the Crusade.

Lutherans At Pacifica To Hear Guest

Missionary Harold Aasland will be the featured speaker at Bethlehem Lutheran Church at the 9:30 a.m. Sunday service.

The Rev. George S. Johnson, pastor, said the Reverend Aasland is arriving this week in San Francisco from Japan where he has served 13 years as a missionary for the American Lutheran Church and he and his wife and their five children (including two sets of twins) will stay with the missionary's brother, Duane Aasland, 3695 Sunset, Pacific Heights.

Besides the service at 9:30 a.m., the Aasland familily will present a program in the evening at 7 p.m. This will include pictures, costumes and interesting insights into the work of missionaries in the Orient. The ladies of Bethlehem Lutheran will serve refreshments, after the service, in the church basement.

Vacation Bible School will begin at Bethlehem Lutheran at 9:30 a.m. on Monday. There will be classes for those entering kindergarten on up through 8th grade.

School Site Negotiations Continuing

Laguna Salada Union School District Assistant Superintendent John Munt reported progress on one front, and continued stalemate on another, in Pacifica school site negotiations last week.

Reporting to the district board of trustees last Tuesday night, Munt announced that one meeting had been held with Challenge Development Company regarding the appraised value of a Park Pacifica school site under consideration, and that another meeting was set for today.

A difference of opinion exists over methods used by appraisers for the district and the developer, Munt said. He added that he expects no difficulty in settling on the value of the land.

Preliminary plans for the new school, drawn by the architectural firm of Masten and Hurd of San Francisco, were approved by the trustees.

The "open-plan" plant will provide 15 classrooms and a kindergarten, as well as offices, multi-purpose and library rooms.

Similar in concept to Portola, Fairmont and San Andreas schools in the district, the new Park Pacifica school will be carpeted, and have a maximum of open space and a minimum of walls.

"The stalemate exists in negotiations with the Roalto Corporation for four acres adjoining the Crespi School site. Munt said he is still hopeful that agreement on a purchase price for the land can be reached before the district's condemnation suit comes to court July 25.

Optimists Seat Staff

Robert Aring, manager of the Crocker-Citizens bank in Westlake Shopping Center, took over the presidency of the Lake Merced Optimists Club at installation ceremonies held last week at the Presidio Officers Club.

He succeeds James Ryan.

Other officers installed were: Byron "Bart" Barton, first vice president; Walter Brodie, second vice president; Vincent Rodriguez, secretary; Lou Cazzano, treasurer; Joseph Cabral, sergeant at arms.

Directors for the coming year are: Dr. Charles Bates, Chris Malamis, Ken Fahy, Ted Lewschin, William Leal, Captain Roland Jones, and Dr. John Gold.

S.S.F. Thief Takes A 'Hangover' From Boxcar

The thief who pried his way into a railroad boxcar parked on a South San Francisco siding is likely nursing a colossal hangover today as a result of celebrating his work last Tuesday.

And he no doubt has enough of the booty left to keep those extra-dry martinis pouring in for many nights to come.

The huge boxcar, loaded with an assortment of alcoholic beverages, was parked on the H. Bermand and Company wholesale warehouse siding off Littlefield Road when it was broken into, police said.

A fast inventory by the company revealed some six dozen bottles of gin missing—enough to make 1,152 dry martinis.

Jeff Elementary School District to Pick Books

Selection of text books at Jefferson Union High School District during the coming year will continue to be made by the district and not be given over to teachers at the four high schools.

This decision was included among actions by district trustees during a three and a half hour session last week in Daly City.

Arguments against selection by the district were given in detail by Norman MacDonald, Westmoor teacher, who is vice president of the Negotiating Council, and Mrs. Doris Lindfors, also of Westmoor and council member, as well as by Emmett O'Boyle, of Oceana, new president of the district Federation of Teachers.

Said MacDonald, "The three year minimum of a pilot test for books implies that teachers of the district do not select texts carefully. One year is sufficient to evaluate a text. Why must we be saddled with an inferior text for three years?

He added that the individual teacher must have a greater voice in the selection of the tools with which to work. "Mass selection of books does not give the teacher that voice."

Mrs. Lindfors said she would hate to see any 600 students of one school not considered as individuals. "Each school should have the right to select the books that it believes best for its individual needs, and we require the flexibility this would afford."

O'Boyle raised six main objections to district selection. "It would reduce teacher improvement, ignore important differences among schools, be more costly, more inefficient, inhibit experimentation and reduce communication among teachers."

Dr. Hal Tonini, principal of Terra Nova, spoke favorably on the district selection plan.

He said that the board has a distinct study guide, "and let us assume that if the whole field is surveyed by the district teachers' book committee, it couldn't go far wrong." He declared that the text book needs of all youngsters in all district schools are being well met.

By blackboard charts he sought to show that whatever were the levels of ability of students in any one particular field of study, the district-selected text books would suit the group in one school as well as in another.

Edward D. Morgan, district superintendent, declared that literally hundreds of books have been well selected, "and of course we want to put only the best books in the hands of our children." He added that the district has given its teachers the right to fully try out such selections.

Sugar... 'n' Spice

By NELL NORTON

RECIPES come to me in interesting and varied ways. Friends call, giving me their latest finds, luncheons yield many new ideas, and many food firms send recipe booklets.

Today's offering came by way of a friend, knowing how I am always on the lookout for different ways to use ground meat. She sent me the following clipping from a newspaper. There is no date on the paper, but it must be about 40 years old.

"John Phillip Sousa, known to the world as the march king, gives meat balls a la Portuguese as his favorite. The success of the dish, according to Mr. Sousa, depends, upon the long, slow, boiling of the sauce."

MEATBALLS A LA PORTUGUESE

1 can tomatoes, No. 2½ size
1 large onion, sliced
salt and pepper to taste
4 cloves
1 tbsp. sugar, if desired
⅛ teaspoon allspice

Combine tomatoes, onion, salt and pepper, cloves, sugar, and allspice in a large saucepan. Simmer gently for one and one-half hours. In the meantime prepare the meatballs.

MEATBALLS

1 lb. ground meat
1 small onion, finely minced
¾ cup bread crumbs
1 Tbsp. parsley, minced
Salt and pepper to taste

Mix ground meat, onion, bread crumbs, parsley and seasonings. Form into balls about the size of a walnut. Add to the sauce and simmer for one and one-half hours more, covered.

YOU WILL FIND when you mix the meatballs that they are a bit drier than usual. Don't worry, when you combine them with the sauce the long, slow simmering makes them moist and delicious. They go very nicely with noodles, rice or mashed potatoes.

With the boys and girls home from school you must have an empty cookie jar in the kitchen. These Snappy Turtle Cookies are so delicious and fun to make that you can probably persuade your daughter to make them up and fill that empty jar.

SNAPPY TURTLE COOKIES

1½ cups sifted flour
¼ teaspoon soda
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup butter
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
¼ teaspoon vanilla
1 egg and 1 egg yolk (reserve the white)
⅛ teaspoon maple flavoring (if desired)
pecan halves

Sift the flour, soda and salt together. Cream the butter, add the brown sugar and cream well. Add the egg and egg yolk and beat until well mixed. Blend in the vanilla and lastly add the sifted dry ingreidents, gradually. Mix well. (The dough will be soft. You may want to chill it for easier handling.)

Arrange the split pecan halves in groups of three or five on greased baking sheets to resemble head and legs of turtle. Mold the dough into balls; dip bottoms into unbeaten egg white and press lightly onto nuts. Use a rounded teaspoonful of dough for each so tips of nuts will show when the cookie is baked. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 10 to 12 minutes. Do not overbake. Cool and frost generously. Makes 2½ dozen.

CHOCOLATE FROSTING

2 square chocolate or one-third cup semi-sweet chocolate bits
¼ cup milk
1 Tablespoon butter
1 cup confectioners' sugar (sifted)

Combine the chocolate or chocolate bits with milk and butter in top of double boiler. Heat over boiling water until chocolate melts; blend until smooth. Re-

SHEET METAL INDUSTRY SCHOLARSHIPS totaling $1,500 have been awarded to three San Mateo County girls by the Sheet Metal Industry of San Mateo County. Nina Vernazza, left, of Daly City, and Rosemary Schabert of San Bruno display their $500 award certificates.

Teens Plan Park Trip

The West Side Teen Club, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department, will travel to San Mateo's Flood Park next Tuesday for a barbeque and swim party.

Members and their guests leave Westmoor High School at 4:30 p.m. and will return to the same site by 10 p.m. Included in the program are swimming, a barbeque and sports.

Hot dogs, potato salad and soft drinks will be provided by the club, and are included in the price of the activity.

Cost of this activity is 75 cents for club members and $1 for their guests. Permission slips and a 50-cent deposit must be turned in to the recreation leader at Westmoor Park by Friday.

Miller Takes Alaska Post

The University of Alaska has announced the appointment of former Post-Times reporter and columnist, Don Miller, to be head of the University's news service and publications department.

Miller, who resigned from the Post to accept the position, will supervise the production of all University of Alaska publications, including news releases for newspapers, radio, television and magazines, starting July 15.

Junior Teens Los Altos Hills Event

The junior teen clubs, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department have announced plans for the second city-wide activity of the summer, a trip to Adobe Creek Lodge in the Los Altos Hills.

The trip is slated for July 23, with buses leaving the War Memorial Community Center and Westmoor Park at 9:15 a.m. Youngsters are expected to return by 4:30 p.m. Included in the day's activities are swimming, a picnic, and games and races in the afternoon.

Permission slips and a 50-cent deposit should be turned in to the teen club advisor, to the recreation leader at Westmoor Park, or to the teen activities office in the War Memorial Community Center, no later than July 19. Information and permission slips have been sent to all junior teen club members.

New Face For San Bruno

By DENIS WADE

San Bruno may have a new face to present to travelers driving through the city, through the efforts of the local chamber of commerce.

Dick King, chamber manager, has announced his organization's intention to clean up the triangle bordered by San Mateo, San Bruno and Huntington avenues.

The land, surrounded by traffic-choked streets and split down the center by the railroad tracks, is presently mostly weeds.

Grass has been planted along one side, for a start— but King envisions a landscaped plaza to act as the gateway to the city's main downtown shopping area.

The plaza would include a stone monument, designed to hide a large power company switch box. Around the border of the triangle would be some 23 flag poles, carrying the banners of the 23 airlines which serve the adjacent international airport.

King suggests that each pole could contain a display case at its base, to show off airline travel posters or exhibits.

With the landscaping of the plaza would come removal of the welter of power lines and poles of all varieties which now stud the area.

King said he counted 58 poles in the immediate area, and added, "I found two that seemed to have no purpose at all."

Among the poles, he said, are a variey of rusted, shabby and decrepit signs which should also be repaired or replaced.

San Bruno City Councilmen have indicated that they are anxious to clean up the area.

A first step has already been completed, with the landscaping and placing of benches in a park on the site of the former Huntington Avenue fire house across the street.

Underway now is a comprehensive study of the downtown area, due for completion this month, which will be used by councilmen to plan the future of the business district.

One proposal is for a mall on San Mateo Avenue.

While the council develops its long-range plans, the chamber is pushing for minor changes which can be made immediately, urging merchants and store owners to paint their buildings, clean up signs, pull weeds and generally clean up

3 Teachers Are Hired

Hiring of three new teachers for the coming year has been approved by the Jefferson Union High School Board of trustees in Daly City.

They are: Charles Witcher, Bruce Frederick and Elizabeth Morris.

Re-classification was approved for Rebecca Smith and Rita Woolfolk.

Resignations of Marion Connelly and Judith Knorp were accepted.

Beach Party, Bowling Set

Next week's junior teen activities will find two of the Daly City Recreation Department-sponsored clubs meeting for a bowling party and a beach party.

The Know Names will begin next Tuesday's activities at the Westlake Bowl at 5 p.m., with two lines of bowling until 6:30.

Club members and their guests will then return to Westlake Park for a hot dog roast and dance until 9 p.m. Cost of this activity is $1.50 for members, $2 for guests. The price includes bowling, shoes, barbecue and dance.

The Casualiers are headed for Thornton Beach on the same evening for a beach party and barbecue. Casualiers and their guests will meet at Colma School at 6 p.m. and are expected to return to the same site at 9:30 p.m.

Included in the program are volleyball, football, a hula hoop contest and a limbo contest, as well as a hot dog roast. Price of this event is $1.25 for club members and $1.50 for their guests.

Bulldogs in National Meet

College of San Mateo aquatics coach Rich Donner is entering two teams in the National AAU water championships at Foothill College which start tomorrow.

The Bulldog "A" and "B" teams will both participate in the 14 team qualifying rounds. Five survivors of the day's competition will join seven seeded teams in regular tournament play, starting Friday at 8 a.m.

The Bulldog B team plays in the first game, drawing the tough assignment of meeting the Canada National Team.. The Bulldog "A squad" hopes to have it a little easier, teeing off against the Vikings from Visalia.

Donner's "A" team is sprinkled with former junior college and Peninsula aqua stars.

Twins Don and Dave Gray of Belmont, Dennis Belli of South San Francisco, and Wayne Lear of Redwood City earned JC all-America swimming honors at CSM this spring.

Don, CSM's athlete of the year, and Belli were also all state in water polo while Lear was an honorable mention choice.

George White of Redwood City was an all-state polo player for CSM in 1964 while goalie Al Arcady of Menlo Park received honorable mention recognition as San Mateo second in the state.

Also on the "A" team are Vince Sutteon of East Palo Alto, a starter on last season's fourth place CSM state tournament team, and CSM swimmer-water polo standout Randy Cort.

Eagles Edge Broncos In D.C. League Tilt

JUNIOR LEAGUE:

THE PAL Eagles handed the Hunt's Broncos their second defeat of the season as they tallied 9 hits while edging the Broncos 7-6. Leading the attack and collecting two hits apiece for the Eagles were Ralph Gage, Carlos Garcia, Tony Moss and Don Shotts. The win gave the Eagles undisputed possession of second place.

By LE PACINI

ON PAPER, the Giants have no right to any rating above the upper middle echelons of the league!

In Bob Shaw and Orlando Cepeda, they lost a 16-game winner and one of the best hitters in baseball, respectively. Len Gabrielson, a .300 hitter for the Giants last year, is hovering around .200 this season. Jesus Alou, though now on the upswing, is still having an off year. And Willie Mays, for him, is also suffering a sub-par season.

There is also the matter of a still unsettled keystone combination, and any casual fan with a sense of baseball history knows that there's never been a pennant winner without a smooth DP combo.

Yes, Hart, McCovey, Marichal, Davenport, and a few others are having good years, but nothing much above what could ordinarily be expected of them. Only Tom Haller and Gaylord Perry are truly having greater years than could have been counted upon.

Why, then, are the Giants where they are? Probably because of an underrated pitching staff, clutch hitting like they haven't had for a long time, and the one factor on any team which is always blamed if they lose and seldom praised if they win . . . the manager. Herman Franks must be a fine one.

IF YOU'VE NOTICED the Giants' pitching staff growing hitting muscles this year, you can credit coach Cookie Lavegetto with the metamorphosis.

During spring training Cookie commandeered a pitching machine and worked the pitching staff endless hours on bunting. This, obviously, improved their bunting, but also proved out an old Ty Cobb theory that the best way to break out of a slump is to bunt your way out.

What it does is discipline you to keeping your eye on the ball and getting some wood on it; getting, in effect, a feel of the ball on the bat. It even helped Ron Herbel, who's been in a hitting slump since birth. What greater testimony for a system.

IT MAY BE second-guessing, but we can't help feeling that Willie Mays would be hitting better all-around this year if it weren't for the pressure of the home run records. Once he passes Foxx, he could go on a rampage. Which would be perfect timing, because it would come during the stretch run.

REGARDING the Astrodome's synthetic grass and atmosphere and spirit, all designed not for comfort and fun—as the propaganda might suggest—but for profit—the natural logical conclusion to this line of bogus environmental projects would seem to be synthetic dirt.

This dirt could be firm and smooth and indestructible, which would release a need for groundskeepers, yet tender, to cut down training table work, and, most important, not dirty—which would reduce water and laundry bills and keep the players looking neat and respectable.

It shatters one's imagination to think of what might naturally follow the synthetic dirt. Think of the players' salaries Judge Hofheinz could save if only . . .

IN DISCUSSING inequities in the Hall of Fame recently, we mentioned the relative lack of good shortstops. The reason, it seems to us, is that most shortstops are, essentially, glove men, and that defensive statistics are almost wholly unreliable and generally ignored.

Fans and writers dwell on batting averages and number of wins and earned run averages, and as a consequence good fielders are sooner forgotten than hitters and pitchers because they're not immortalized in statistical charts—or at least in charts which are significant and studied.

Since Hall of Fame voters are often voting for men they've never seen or have seen little of, they must rely on statistics to at least help to jar their memories. They might remember one or two great plays by Marty Marion, say, but they're constantly reminded of Ruth's 714 homers because they're constantly in print.

Marion and leather men of his ilk could never make the Hall of Fame on the basis of a few fond memories. Voters need something concrete—such as statistics—upon which to base their votes. Ironically, statistics are only events which have been recorded, and are intrinsically no more concrete than memories which have merely been recalled.

THE WIRE SERVICES haven't yet taken up this bit of frivolity, so we'll scoop them.

The Washington Senators must be the most romantic team in baseball, what with Fred Valentine playing center field and Phil Casanova catching.

LOCAL NOTES: A few belated salutes to Pacifica athletes who continue to prove that brains and brawn can mix. Jorgen Bindum, former top Terra Nova swimmer, was the top scholar in his College of San Mateo graduating class, posting a 3.82 grade point average out of a possible 4.0.

Rich Morello, of Oceana, was voted Outstanding Senior Boy. He was an outstanding baseball player, a fine golfer, and played basketball and varsity football. He was president of the Block O and Most Valuable freshman athlete. Morello's counterpart at Terra Nova, Rich Byfield, swam for the Tigers for four years, swam for the Pacifica Sea Lions, and also wrestled for T.N.

Another former Terra Novan and ex-footballer, Ron Ball, walked out of Stanford into an engineering position with the Division of Highways.

A social note: Former Oceana all-league basketballer Dave Breazeale is engaged to Sandra Kay Mullen.

AND OF an even more serious note, former Tiger basketball, baseball, and badminton star Rich Cameron, is touring Northern Europe on a good will training cruise aboard his ship, the destroyer USS Beatty.

TAG-END: So you're still wondering what gives Sandy Koufax his big edge? "I go out to pitch a no-hitter every game," he said recently in the Sporting News. "After I allow one hit, then I shoot for a shutout."

Koufax is probably the only pitcher in baseball who won't let up with a big lead (not that he ever gets them), and, paradoxically, might have become as great as he is because the Dodgers have ever allowed him the luxury of even thinking of letting up.

Signups Now For D.C. Rec Volleyball

The Daly City Recreation Department is now accepting sign-ups for the 1966 Summer High School Co-Ed Volleyball League to be held on Wednesday nights at either the War Memorial Community Center or the Westmoor High School Gymnasium.

All high school students living in Daly City are urged to organize a team and join in the competitive fun.

Churches and clubs can be represented by a team or teams.

The league will be limited to eight teams, with a maximum of five boys and five girls on a team.

Deadline for team entries will be this Friday, with league play beginning next Wednesday.

There will be a 25c entry fee, which should be turned in with completed rosters to the Recreation Department Office, 144 Hillsdale Boulevard.

Roster forms and other information can be obtained by contacting Mickey Corso, Recreation Supervisor, at 755-0850, ext. 18.

Bugs Closer To Top Place

The Daly City Volkswagen Bugs moved closer to the first place BYA Tin Knockers last week by taking three decisive victories including a 3-1 upset win over the Tin Knockers in the American Division's Midget League.

The Bugs also shut out the OLM Panthers 3-0 and walloped the BYA Darts 9-1. Leading the Bugs team in the three games were Don Thuener, who pitched a two hit shutout against the Tin Knockers, while collecting five hits in the three game series, and Steve Duncan who also bogged five hits.

The Tin Knockers came back strong from their earlier loss as they nipped the BYA Dards 4-3, then blanked the OLM Panthers 8-0.

Pitcher Gary Baptista was a one man show for the Tin Knockers in the Panther game as he allowed only three hits and collected three himself including two triples.

Kenny Urretia, Greg Georgakos, and Bob Gerrari each collected two safeties to lead the Tin Knockers over the Darts.

The PAL Indians defeated the OLPH Orioles 1-1 behind the hitting and pitching of Chuck Collandrez. Collendrez went 3 for 4 at the plate and held the opposition to just two hits while on the hill.

Tom Frederico slammed out a pair of hits for PAL. Mike Solari played a good defensive game for OLPH. The BYA Darts took a forfeit win from the OLM Bears to round out last week's action.

Don Thuener pitched his third no-hitter of the year as the Daly City Volkswagen Bugs shut out the PAL Indians 3-0 to move into undisputed possession of second place.

Thuener and Steve Duncan led the Bugs' hitting attack as each banged out a pair of safeties.

D.C. Summer Rec Program Starts Third 'Fun' Week

As the Daly City summer recreation program moves into its third week, local youngsters are both remembering the run rollerskating and discovering San Mateo's Coyote Point, and looking forward to the coming special events.

This week the city's younger children are traveling to Oakland's Fairyland for a day's fun, including a visit to the Natural Science Museum and a boat ride on Lake Merritt. Next week's special event will be a trip to nearby Crocker Hills for a day filled with hiking, exploring and relaxing to enjoy the beauty of these hills.

Special events have made many Daly City youngsters' "dreams come true," but this is also balanced by excitement and fun on the local playgrounds:

GEORGE WASHINGTON

On June 27 George Washington Playground had its first Carrom Tournament. The two finalists in the ten-and-under group are Brian Geiger and Eddie Gillen. In the eleven-and-over group there are six boys and one girl who have reached the finals. They include Debra Stewart, Phillip Medina, Vincent Jones, Mike Winding, Gus Seacevedo, James Martin and Bill Fleming.

The finals will be held on Thursday with the winners of each group receiving awards. A softball team is also being started, with signups starting soon. The boys and their coaches are looking forward to a rematch with Panorama, whom they beat last year 30-1.

PALISADES PARK

Recreation leader Bob Rankim reports this week that Danny McVeigh showed great ability in track and field events last week by dominating a majority of the events at Palisades Park. Dan placed first in the broad jump, fifty-yard dash, one hundred yard dash, 440, and the football throw.

In the girls' competition, Karen McVeigh showed good running form as well as speed. Joey Martamar had three second place finishes for his team in the track events. Kevin McVeigh showed a strong arm in the football throw among the younger boys.

John McVeigh, like his older brother, dominated the younger boys in the events. Track and Field events are held every Friday at 2 p.m.; all boys and girls are invited to come and participate. Youngsters are also invited to bring their lunches and hear stories between noon and 1 p.m.

JEFFERSON ELEMENTARY

Tomorrow and Friday are the dates for the field contests planned by Recreation Leader Tony Spadarella and Aide Dave Autsen of Jefferson Elementary School Playground. Relay races, basketball, three-legged races, tether ball, and ping pong are on the program, as well as late afternoon softball games.

These events are open to all youngsters between the ages of seven and thirteen. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments served.

OUR LADY OF MERCY

This week begins signups for the ping pong tournament to be held at our Lady of Mercy next week. The hopefuls for awards in this tournament include Tim Sullivan, George Allen, Maureen Bennett, and Steve Becker. Everyone is playing softball these days, including Ray Pabiltz, Joey Mchemora, Bob Ahern and Timmy Allen.

DANIEL WEBSTER

The highlights of last week's activity at Daniel Webster is the fielding of the park's softball team, currently playing in inter-playground competition. The team consists mainly of veterans, with a fair sprinkling of first-year players. Probable starters for the team's first outing are Jerry and Mike Montague, Gary Sagg, Tom Piazza, Ray Colclough, Mark Delaperla, and Gary Sangervasi.

VISTA MAR SCHOOL

The summer's program at Vista Mar School is rolling along now and many activities and special events are being offered to boys and girls. Activities range from softball, basketball and soccer to games for the younger set, such as streets and alleys, Batman and Robin, and the old favorite, One Foot off the Gutter.

There are many tournaments scheduled for the coming weeks, so why not join up now? Each day is highlighted by special events conducted by specialists from the Recreation Department. There are teams to join, games to play and fun to be had—so why not join in on all the action by coming to Vista Mar School Recreation Program?

PANORAMA SCHOOL

Gary Burns and Taylor Delbex, the recreation aide and leader at Panorama, have had good luck in organizing tournaments. A week ago a Carrom Tournament began, with 24 participants.

All of the children were between seven and thirteen years of age. Most of the participants were boys, although two girls entered, Patie Sullivan and Linda McDaniels. Two boys have progressed to the quarter finals, Dave Ginilo and Tom Demare.

The other quarterfinal spots have not yet been filled. Last Thursday the park had a hot dog roast which all the children enjoyed. Dennis Majourau, Frankie and Tony Barnes, Henry Giovanetti, and many others roasted hot dogs and marshmallows. Tomorrow a bike obstacle race will be held. Children of all ages will have to operate their bikes around obstacles to try to finish with the best time.

WAR MEMORIAL BUILDING

The whiffle ball league, consisting of even two-men teams, is going strong at the War Memorial Community Center. Immediate forecast indicates that Tom Burgess and Lou Matetucci will take the league. On the volleyball scene, the all-girl team, consisting of Joyce Thrush, Kay Hansen, Linda Hudson, Sylvia Hudson, Kris Hansen and Sheila Craig has been unable to defeat the all-boys team, consisting of Henry Michon, Danny Ayala, Roy Michon, Pete Michon, Eric Nunez and Oscar Nunez.

CROCKER SCHOOL

With the summer program in full swing at Crocker School, Leader Ed Larios and Aide Steve Green have many tournaments under way. The most popular for the boys is strikeouts, and for the girls it is ping-pong.

Other tournaments include sorry, carroms, chess, checkers and tether ball. The boys participating are George, Peter, Barney and Benny Jurand, Ralph Gage, Greg, Keith and Franklin Shelton, Sal and Johnny Espinoza, Junior and Jerry McNeil, Don Redmond, Harris Fulbright, Bob, Dennis and Mike Sims, and Mike White. The girls are Jenny and Debbie Sims, Mary Villias, Kathy Edmondson, Diane and Joyce Chavez.

WESTLAKE PARK

Director Mike Elston feels that Ted Reiterman, Barry Cossman and Todd Stevenson are among the best ping-pong players at Westlake Park, although only a tournament will decide the best player. Croquet is also another favorite game of the children at Westlake Park, and among the better players are Sally Costello, Leland Cole, Bruce Costello, Nicky Ellopoulus, and Morty Marcus.

FRANKFORT PARK

Many children have been coming to Frankfort Park to learn more about sports and games. Paddle pool and checkers are rapidly becoming the biggest favorites, and some of the more outstanding players of these games are Regina and Robert Napoli and Connie Hughes.

MIDWAY SCHOOL

Things are well organized at Midway School; two special events were featured last week, a picnic lunch on the playground and a puppet show in the auditorium. These events were held on June 29.

Those participating in the two events were Douglas Mayo, Kathy Rhoads, Jean Turnbull, Orlando Miranda, Elmer Flores, Dave Turnbull, Rickie Turnbull, Norie Turnbull, Danny Hughes, Kim Quinteros, Ed Fontes, Raymond DeVault, Mike DeVault, Patty DeVault, Debbie DeVault, Joey Devault, Penny Turnbull, Patrick Miller, Gregory Miller, Mike Sholler, Chip Sholler, Mario Famero, Dale Hill, Debra LaSalle, Julie Estrada, Chris Estrada, Jerry Brownin, Branda Lawson, Bonnie Rhoades, Laurie Estrada, Vickie Nicholas, Edgar Flores, Scott Rhoads, Jack Fronce, Ike Allmond, Steve Farell, and Mike Chalone.

Coming events are a paddle pool tournament for 7-10-year-olds and a ping pong tournament for 10-14-year-olds. Both these events will be held Friday.

VISTA GRANDE SCHOOL

Last Thursday at Vista Grande a ping pong tournament was scheduled. The champion was Linda Perez, 11 years old.

Later in the day Bob Ferrari and John Ferrari chose teams and played softball. Playing on Bob's team were Pete Bogden, Dennis Sims, Joey Gretch and Mike Samuelson. On John's team were Mike Rugglera, Gary Baptista, Jess Vargos and John Mendoza. The score was 14-8, the latter team winning.

FRANKLIN ROOSEVELT

Franklin D. Roosevelt Playground will hold its annual Bicycle Day, featuring various contests, bicycle races and relays tomorrow. The playground has also started a high school softball and baseball team. Some of the standouts in practice have been Steve Gilmore, Mike Simpson, Dana Marcus, Jim Lacey, Les Williams, Bud Hubiwitz, Scott Alves, Mike Ward and Dave Stein.

MARCHBANKS PARK

Activities at Marchbanks Park are now in full swing for the summer. The latest activity for girls and boys of high school age is the Marchbanks volleyball team. Players include Ellie Reed, Sue Hara, Jim Lujan, Art Hermosillo, Lefty Blake, Pinky Smith and Booker Bradford.

Signups for the team are still being taken. The Marchbanks Boys' Athletic Club has been a great success this year.

All boys 9-13 years of age are able to participate in a varied program of athletic activities, including baseball and softball.

The club meets on Tuesdays and Fridays at 2 p.m.

A children's barbecue for all age groups has been scheduled for Wednesdays at noon.

Bring your hot dogs and marshmallows today and join the fun!

"COME ON IN, THE WATER'S FINE," is the invitation from this group of beginning swimmers at the Jefferson High School pool in Daly City. Swim lessons are given each weekday from 8:30 to 1:30, with small groups, divided by age and ability, supervised by individual instructors such as Armando Melendez, above. Next session begins July 18.

Reunion for Sclerosis Patient Severtsen Set

A reception to welcome wheelchair multiple sclerosis patient Kari Severtsen of Brooklyn, N.Y., to California is being organized according to Mrs. Molly Owen, executive director of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, Northern California Chapter.

Through an appeal in the San Mateo Times sufficient funds have been raised for Kari's flight here. During her two weeks' vacation she will be the guest of Ron Martinez and his mother, of 200 Rosewood, South San Francisco. Ron, a quadro-paraplegic, met Kari while receiving special treatment in a Denver, Colo., hospital. For two years they have kept in touch and have repeatedly expressed a desire to see each other.

At noon, July 6, Kari will be met at the airport by Ron's nurse, Mrs. Pearl Lowry, RN. She will be transported to Ron's home by the American Red Cross. A welcoming party will include MS wheelchair patient Mrs. Frances Slaughter, chairman of the San Francisco MS Society's Patient-to-Patient Service, a unique program organized by patient members of the Northern California Chapter. Mrs. Slaughter will present Kari with a bouquet of flowers and a souvenir from California. Kari will also receive phone calls from local patients who will tell her about facilities available to MSers in the Bay Area.

The major contribution which is largely responsible for making Kari's trip possible came from the Bonifaces, a San Francisco Hotel Managers' Association. Contributions which are still coming in have also been received from friends of the Borel Junior High, San Mateo; Robert S. Toms, Burlingame; Ann A. Stark, Burlingame; Elsie A. Morris, San Mateo; J. R. Agliolo, Burlingame; Doris Vannier, Belmont; Paul Gossman, Pacifica; Stuart and Betty Clark, Half Moon Bay and a 10-year-old anonymous donor, Belmont. Those wishing to send contributions should mail them to Mrs. Lowry, 367 Catherine Drive, South San Francisco.

Happy Ending In Hunt for Boy

An all-out search for a 3½-year-old Daly City youngster, who it was feared had drowned in Marina Lagoon in San Mateo last Wednesday, climaxed after a two-hour effort in the finding ot the lad who had wandered some 20 blocks away from Parkside beach where he had been playing.

The boy was identified as Gregory Brandt, son of Mrs. Janet E. Brandt, of 580 Sylvan Avenue, Daly City.

The drowning scare was touched off at 3:45 p.m. when the mother contacted Officer John Burr to report she hadn't seen her son for the past one and a half hours. She said she had last seen him in the area near the launch ramp and boat dock.

Officer Burr alerted the department and some 11 officers, using four patrol cars, the lagoon patrol boat and scuba gear joined in the search.

Under the dirdction of Police Chief Martin C. McDonnell and Sergeant Howard Tricket the underwater rescue squad, including Officers Burr, Charles Drews, Gordon Joinville and Al Ajuria, began a search of the slough, while Dispatcher Jerry Whaley and Officers Bert Sellers and Frank Reuckert searched the shoreline above water area and general neighborhood. Four other private boats were pressed into ervice by police Officer Wally Cather, E. M. Trucco who maintained radio contact with searching units.

Chief McDonnell meanwhile ordered the day watch to remain on standby orders at headquarters.

At about 4:40 p.m. Arnold Mangrum of 2012 Shoreview avenue came driving by the scene of the excitement with young Gregory in tow. With Mangrum was a neighbor, Mrs. Francis Say, 1827 Shoreview Avenue. They told police they found the boy wandering in front of their homes.

Probation, Fines For 3 'Angels'

Three members of the Hells Angels have received sentences ranging from a $276 fine to five months' confinement after pleading guilty to charges stemming from a Daly City brawl last April 4.

Probation and reduced sentences then followed.

Richard W. Othen, 23, of Campbell; Lawrence W. Cook, 23, of Santa Clara, and Gary Bruce Maker, 24, of San Jose quietly accepted the sentences handed down by Judge F. J. Delarios in the North Judicial District Municipal Court of San Mateo County:

Cook was given a six-month suspended sentence, along with a $500 fine and two years' summary probation. All but $276 of the fine was suspended.

Judge Delarios granted Maker a stay of his sentence until July 8 at which time he will begin serving two months of a six-month sentence.

Maker's $500 fine was also suspended and he was placed on three years' summary probation.

Othen was handed a six-month sentence, $500 fine and summary probation of three years.

All but 40 days of the sentence were suepended.

Jewelry Taken

Milton J. Savin told South San Francisco police that a burglar broke into his home on 2380 Wexford Drive and took clothing and jewelry. The burglar entered the home through a second-story window.

Storeroom At School Gutted

A storage building in the Vallemar School in the Linda Mar region of Pacifica was gutted by fire at 2:41 p.m. Monday.

Pacifica fire officials said youngsters possibly may have been throwing firecrackers in a vent in the rear of the building — the storeroom.

The blaze was confined to the storeroom, although some damage probably resulted elsewhere in the school as smoke drifted through the vents.

A Bruno Mt. Hike Invite Is Extended

An invitation was extended today to all groups and individuals interested in a regional park on San Bruno Mountain to have a look around at possible sites on a hike July 16.

"Wear your old clothes and hiking shoes and we'll walk around and take a look at the natural scenery and discuss the possibilities of what area of the mountain could best be used for park purposes," San Mateo County Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald said.

The invitation came on the heels of ground-breaking ceremonies this week for the second portion of Guadalupe Canyon Parkway, the county's first east-west lateral that cuts through Crocker lands on San Bruno Mountain.

Fitzgerald first proposed the hike at the dedication luncheon with Brisbane, Daly City, and South San Francisco city officials present, and Daly City Councilman Bud Lycett commented that he was a brave man to make such a suggestion in the presence of two Crocker Land Company vice presidents.

The hike will get under way at 9:30 a.m. at the top of the ridge where Guadalupe Parkway ends at Radio Road. It can be reached through the town of Colma by taking Market Street off Mission in Daly City.

Fitzgerald said the board of supervisors has been receiving a steady stream of letters both from individual citizens and organized groups who are interested in setting aside some portion of the mountain for a park in the highly developed Daly City-Colma-South San Francisco area.

Existing agreements between the Building Trades and the Construction Industry groups relative to overtime, holidays and other special provisions shall be recognized.

LOCAL LABOR:

13. It is the policy of the Owner that contractors on public projects employ their workers and craftsmen from the local labor market whenever possible. Consistent with that policy the Contractor is requested to employ his craftsmen and other workers from the local labor market whenever possible to do so. "Local Labor Market" within the meaning of this section is defined as the labor market within the geographical confines of the County of San Mateo, State of California.

WAGE RATES:

14. The Board of Supervisors has determined the rate of prevailing wages in the locality in which the work is to be performed for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to perform the contract. Said prevailing rates are set forth below:

CRAFT	PER HOUR
Cement Masons	$4.665
Electricians	5.38
Laborers
Group I	4.025
Group II	3.875
Group III	3.775
Truck Drivers (Dump — (Under 4 yds)	4.205

ANY WAGE RATE NOT LISTED HEREIN FOR ANY OTHER BUILDING CRAFT, SAN MATEO COUNTY WAGE RATES WILL APPLY.

A bond will be required for the faithful performance of the Contract in amount of not less than One Hundred Per Cent (100%) of the amount of the bid, and a bond will be required to guarantee the payment of wages for services engaged and all bids contracted for materials used in the performance of the Contract in an amount of not less than One Hundred Per Cent (100%) of the bid.

Brisbane Recovers Lead Bars

Brisbane police Monday night recovered more than $2,000 worth of lead bars, zinc wire and loose lead scrap apparently abandoned by burglars who earlier had broken into a San Francisco metal company and trucked away between 18,000 and 20,000 pounds of metal stock. The pile of bars and wire, belonging to the Somerset Type Metal Company, 1220 Pennsylvania Avenue, San Francisco, was first spotted by a highway scrap picker, police said.

The company, owned by Joshua Jaffe, of 1500 Oak Rim Drive, Hillsborough, reported the theft Saturday morning shortly after opening for business.

Jaffe told The Times that the burglars used "one or more" of his company's trucks to transport the metal, returning them to the company area after they were through.

Brisbane police figure the bars were dumped alongside the highway near Candlestick Park because they could be identified by the company stamp.

Less than 40 per cent of the metal was recovered according to Jaffe, who sets his loss at some $6,000.

Best British Recipes Can BeDuplicated

From as far north as Royal Deeside near Aberdeen in Scotland, and as far south as Aylesbury in Buckinghamshire, come the raw materials for the best of Britain's recipes.

In most parts of the United States they are easily duplicable. Take salmon. Americans who live along the North Atlantic or Pacific will find fresh salmon not hard to obtain in season. Prepared as below, it is delectable. Incidentally, one of the fishermen who earnestly pursues the finny salmon in Scotland is the Queen Mother Elizabeth, who dons long boots and takes off on fishing expeditions in the River Dee, which last for days. The Royal Family is in residence at nearby Balmoral Castle in summer.

American duck may not be precisely the same as Aylesbury Duckling, but it will taste as good, and steak and kidney pudding is a delightful winter dish anywhere. Real English salt beef may be harder to obtain outside metropolitan centers, but it is easy enough to prepare.

All these dishes share the qualities which are outstanding in really fine British food—they are hearty, simple and, yet, with small touches which make them distinctive.

Each is a specialty of a particular part of Britain. These four dishes are among the twelve recently chosen Britain's most outstanding by a committee of food experts. Your preference might help you win a free trip to Britain for two. Write the British Travel Association, 680 Fifth Avenue, New York City, for a "Pick A Dish" blank. In the meantime, good cooking!

DRESSED SALMON AND SALAD

- 3 lb. salmon
- 1 hard boiled egg
- ½ lb. of butter
- ¼ cup white wine
- ⅛ lb. chopped mushrooms
- 2 slices crustless white bread, soaked in milk
- 2 anchovy fillets
- rind and juice of 1 lemon
- ¼ tsp. salt
- ⅛ tsp. pepper

Clean and gut fish. Soak bread in milk, squeeze out, break bread in pieces, add chopped anchovy, grated lemon rind, chopped hard boiled egg, chopped mushrooms, Add salt and pepper, mix. Stuff into gullet of fish, secure with a toothpick. Put in a fireproof baking dish. Dot the back with half the butter and a little black pepper. Pour wine around the fish. Cover with wax paper, bake in 300 degree oven for 1 hour. Melt rest of butter with lemon juice. Ten minutes before done, remove wax paper, pour butter over the fish. Skin before serving; serve with the lemon butter and wine sauce in a sauceboat. Serve with mixed salad, vinegar and olive oil dressing.

BEEFSTEAK AND KIDNEY PUDDING

Dr. Samuel Johnson loved this dish. His portrait still gazes down benignly on diners at London's "Cheshire Cheese," where it is a specialty. The curmudgeony doctor's chair is in a corner. Each October, the first Monday, a festival is celebrated at the "Cheshire Cheese" called the "Opening of the Pudding Season." With songs and a procession, the delectable old dish is welcomed back to the menu.

Oysters and Mushrooms may be omitted, but are good.

- 2 lbs. stew beef
- ½ lb. beef or lamb kidney (cubed)
- ¼ lb. mushrooms
- 10 oysters
- 1¼ tsp. chopped mixed herbs (sage, marjoram, thyme)
- ¾ cup of stock or broth
- ¼ cup sherry
- 1 tsp. salt
- ¼ tsp. pepper

CRUST

- 4 cups flour
- 1½ sticks butter or margarine
- ½ to ¾ cup cold water
- ¼ tsp. salt

Sift flour with salt, mix in butter with knives, mix to a fairly soft dough with the water. Make firm, springy. Set aside half of it. Roll out the rest, in circle. Dampen inside of a one quart basin or large pie pan, then line it with the crust. Roll meat in flour, fill pan with separate layers of meat, mushrooms, herbs, adding an occasional oyster. Add salt and pepper. Fill to within ¼ inch of top with beef stock and sherry. Cover with remaining pastry, damp the edges. Cover the top with buttered waxed paper. Cover entire dish with cloth, which tie on top. Set the basin in boiling water (don't let boil over edge). Simmer covered, 3 to 4 hours. Gravy will be extremely thick. Hot water is often served with the pudding to thin it.

Note: Old recipes used a suet crust, but modern generations prefer it lighter.

DUCK WITH SAGE AND ONION DRESSING

Traditionally the best roast duck with sage and onion stuffing in Britain comes from Aylesbury in Buckinghamshire, northwest of London. It is at its most authentic at the "Olde Bull Inn" there, dating from 1478, a beautiful building in half-timbering with a tradition of the best in English cooking and impeccable service.

Stuffing

- 1½ lbs. of onions (peeled)
- 1½ tsp. of sage
- 2 cups of breadcrumbs
- 1 tsp. salt
- ½ tsp. pepper

Peel and simmer the onions for half an hour. Drain and chop. Add sage, breadcrumbs, seasoning. Mix well together.

Roast Duck

- 3 to 4 lb. duck
- stuffing
- ¼ cup flour
- ½ cup melted butter
- ½ cup stock or white wine or sherry

Stuff the duck and truss. Set in a roasting pan. Baste with melted butter. Roast in 350 degree oven for 1-1½ hours depending on size, basting frequently. When done, pour off the fat, add flour to the juice and brown, if thick gravy is desired. Add stock or wine, reduce to desired thickness on top of the stove. Serve the gravy in a gravy boat, and accompany with apple sauce or currant jelly, wild rice.

BOILED (SIMMERED) SALT BEEF WITH DUMPLINGS AND CARROTS

Some comment is probably in order on this delicious but somewhat forbidding sounding dish. In the first place, by "boil" the British mean "simmer." A violent boil is specified by the term "poach."

Furthermore, salt beef is only "corned" beef, cooked with horseradish flavored dumplings, and spices. Do not buy canned corned beef, but what is called "salted topside," or salt your own by coating any good piece of beef ⅛ of an inch thick with coarse salt, rubbing in a little brown sugar and saltpetre, and turn once a day for a week.

- 4 to 5 pounds salt beef
- 2 large onions
- 10-20 cloves
- 1 turnip
- 2 carrots (or more if desired)
- 1 head celery
- 2 leeks
- ½ teaspoon thyme
- 1 teaspoon chopped parsley
- ½ teaspoon pepper

Soak beef in cold water four hours or overnight. Put in saucepan, barely cover with water. Stud the onions with the cloves, add to the water. Add pepper and herbs, cover, bring to a boil, simmer gently 20 minutes to the pound. After one hour of cooking, add all the other vegetables, sliced.

DUMPLINGS

- 4 tablespoon self rising flour
- 2 tablespoon butter or shortening (in traditional recipes, grated suet)
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon horseradish (or cooked spinach)

Mix half an hour before needed. Work flour and butter or shortening with wooden spoon, then add salt, and enough cold water to make a stiff paste. On a floured board, shape to small balls. Make a small hole in each and fill with horseradish or spinach, then close up hole. When the meat is done, take it and the vegetables from the stock, arrange on a plate, keep warm. Poach the dumplings in boiling stock for 10 minutes, drain, serve with the beef. The stock, with more vegetables, will make excellent soup.

Milk production in the U.S. in March, the latest figure, is down 4.6 per cent below March, 1965. California milk production was down 2 per cent for the month.

Potluck Bean Will Build a Reputation

Beans can make a meal and a bean dish like this Scandinavian favorite, as a potluck contribution, can build a reputation. Traditionally brown beans are called for, but they are hard to find in many areas. Idaho's dappled Pinto beans, used in this authentic recipe, become a rich brown in the saucing and cooking. They may be found in our markets in abundance and at a reasonable price. Idaho-grown dried Red beans may be used.

Emma's Brown Beans

First step

2 pounds (4⅔ cups) Idaho Pinto beans
12 cups water
½ teaspoon soda
4 teaspoons salt
4 tablespoons cooking oil or butter

Place washed beans in large kettle, add water. Bring to boiling point. Boil 2 minutes only. Remove from heat, add soda to cut down cooking time. Cover. Let stand 1 hour. Or soak beans with soda in measured amount of water overnight. To cook, put kettle of beans with soaking water on high heat. Add salt and oil or butter to keep down the foam. When boiling, reduce heat to simmer. Cover tightly and cook 2 hours or until tender.

Second step

8 slices bacon, cut in 1-inch pieces
¼ cup diced onion
1 medium-size clove of garlic, sliced
¼ teaspoon coarse-grind black pepper
¼ cup light molasses
1 cup catsup
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1½ cups light brown sugar
½ cup cider vinegar
½ teaspoon dry mustard
3 tablespoons cornstarch, mixed with
¼ cup cold water
A shake or 3 of Tabasco sauce

Mix together all ingredients. Add to the cooked beans, stirring carefully with a wooden spoon to avoid breaking beans. Cook slowly, covered, on surface unit for about 1 hour. Or place in a 325 degree F. oven (moderately slow) for 1½ hours. Serve hot. Really improves with standing and re-heating.

A Creamy Parfait

Who doesn't look for short cuts to good taste? Here's a cherry-cream parfait produced in a twinkling from cloud-light sweetened whipped cream and tart cherry pie-filling straight from the can. Spoon into tall glasses, freeze until firm, then cap with a swirl of whipped cream, and a piece of fruit, candy, or nut. It's a Borden Kitchen finale that's fast and fun.

Jiffy Cherries 'N Cream
(Makes six 1/2-cup servings)

1 cup Borden's Heavy Cream
2 teaspoons sugar
2-1/2 cups (1-lb. 5-oz. can) Comstock Cherry Pie-Filling

In small electric mixer bowl, beat cream with sugar just until peaks form. Carefully fold in cherry pie-filling until evenly blended. Spoon into 6 parfait glasses. Place in freezer. Freeze 2 hours, or until firm. If desired, at serving time garnish top with additional whipped cream.

Sour Cream Variation:
(Makes six 1/2-cup servings)

1 cup sour cream
1 tablespoon sugar
2-1/2 cups (1-lb. 5-oz. can) cherry pie-filling

In small electric mixer bowl, beat sour cream at high speed for 2 minutes, or until creamy-smooth throughout. Add sugar; beat 1 minute longer, or until well blended. Stir in cherry pie-filling; blend well. Spoon mixture into 6 parfait glasses. Place in freezer. Freeze 2 hours, or until firm. Remove from freezer 1/2 hour before serving. Refrigerate until serving time. If desired, top each parfait with whipped cream.

Dainty and Delicate Dessert Welcomed

What is more welcome after a big dinner than a delicate, dainty dessert? Loisita's Cottage-Cream Dessert is just such a lace-cupped little sweet, filled with a blend of cottage cheese, glacé citron, and semi-sweet chocolate pieces. The Borden Kitchen encourages the clever cook to add touches distinctively her own—candied pineapple or orange peel, perhaps.

Loisita's Cottage-Cream Dessert
(Makes 8 cups—a generous 1/3 cup per cookie cup)

3 cups (1-1/2 lbs.) Borden's small curd Creamed Cottage Cheese
1-1/4 cups sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla extract
1 (4-oz.) jar glacé diced citron, finely chopped
1/3 cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces
Pistachio nuts, optional

In a large-size electric mixer bowl, beat cottage cheese at medium speed until almost smooth. Add sugar and vanilla; beat well. Turn mixture into a colander lined with a double thickness of clean, dry cheesecloth. Set into a low pan. Refrigerate for at least 12 hours or overnight; let drain thoroughly. Turn drained mixture into large-size mixing bowl. Add finely chopped citron and chocolate pieces; mix well. At serving time, fill wafer-thin cookie cups, cup cakes or Mary Ann shells with a generous 1/3 cup filling. Sprinkle with finely chopped pistachio nuts.

Try French Frying Variety Meats

There are two kinds of frying in the world of cuisine. When food is cooked in a shallow amount of fat in a frying-pan, that's panfrying. When it's immersed in deep, hot fat, that's French or deep-fat frying.

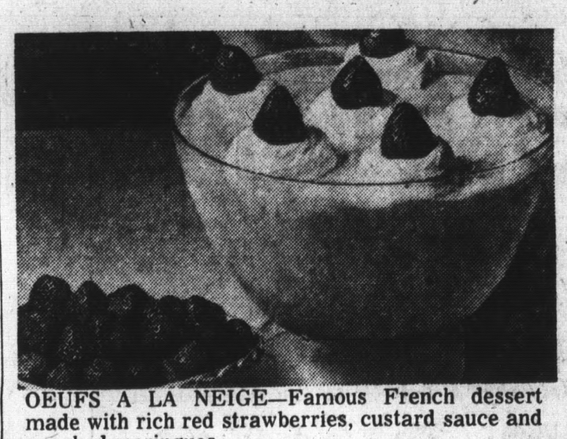
Cooking the food in deep, hot lard is an excellent way of preparing the fragile variety meat called sweetbreads. This cream-colored, mildly flavored meat is not only delectable but very nutritious, supplying half the ascorbic acid (vitamin C) needed daily by an adult, high quality protein, minerals and other vitamins as well, explains meat authority.

Highly perishable, sweetbreads should be purchased just before they're used. They'll keep more firm for easier handling if they are simmered, as directed, in the water, salt and vinegar as soon as they are brought home from the market.

French Fried Sweetbreads

- 1 pound sweetbreads
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon vinegar
- 1 quart water
- 1 egg, beaten
- ½ cup dry bread or cracker crumbs
- Lard for deep-fat frying

Wash sweetbreads. Add salt and vinegar to water. Simmer 20 minutes. Drain and plunge in cold water. Remove membrane. Break into 2-inch pieces. Roll sweetbreads in egg, then in bread or cracker crumbs. Fry in deep hot lard (360 degrees F.) until well browned. Drain on absorbent paper. 6 servings.



OEUFS A LA NEIGE—Famous French dessert made with rich red strawberries, custard sauce and poached meringues.

Berries Embellish Famous Dessert

Some desserts one never forgets.

OEUFS A LA NEIGE

- 3 egg yolks
- 3 whole eggs
- ¼ cup sugar
- ⅛ teaspoon salt
- 3 cups milk, scalded
- 2 teaspoons vanilla
- 1 pint basket strawberries, hulled and rinsed
- Poached Meringues

In the top of a double boiler, beat together the egg yolks, whole eggs, sugar and salt just until yolks and whites are combined. Slowly but vigorously stir in the scalded milk. Cook and stir constantly over simmering water (that does not touch bottom of upper part of double boiler) until slightly thickened and custard coats a metal spoon—about 10 minutes. Chill; stir in vanilla. (Makes about 3½ cups.)

At serving time, reserve 6 small strawberries; slice the remaining berries into 6 dessert bowls. Ladle the chilled custard sauce (a generous half-cupful for each) over the berries. Top each serving with a poached meringue; place a whole strawberry, cutside down, in the center of each meringue.

POACHED MERINGUES

- 3 egg whites
- ⅛ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup superfine sugar

In a medium mixing bowl, beat the egg whites and salt until foamy; gradually beat in sugar, a tablespoon at a time; continue to beat until sugar is dissolved and meringue is extremely stiff. Fill a deep 10- to 12-inch skillet half full of boiling water; place over heat and keep water barely simmering. Using a large kitchen spoon, drop the meringue (in 6 even-size high portions) into the water. Poach about 2 minutes; carefully turn and poach another 2 minutes. With a slotted spoon, carefully remove meringues to double thicknesses of paper toweling to drain. Chill until serving time.

Make This Crabmeat Dish Ahead

You can prepare this main dish ahead, then heat before serving.

Savory Crabmeat Rolls
Salad Bowl
Cantaloupe with Ice Cream

Savory Crabmeat

- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- 2 teaspoons finely grated onion (pulp and juice)
- ½ teaspoon prepared yellow mustard
- 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of celery soup, undiluted
- ¼ cup each minced celery and green pepper
- 1 can (7½ ounces) king crab with tendons removed, drained and cut
- 2 thin-cut bread slices, crusts removed and finely crumbed
- 1½ tablespoons butter, melted
- paprika

In a mixing bowl, stir together the lemon juice, onion and mustard, stir in a little of the soup, then the rest of it with the celery, green pepper and crab. Turn into 3 buttered individual round ovenglass pie plates (6 by 1 inch). Mix crumbs with butter; sprinkle over crab mixture; dust with paprika. Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven until hot, bubbly and topping is lightly browned—about 20 minutes. Makes 3 servings.

Select Veal For Change In Roasts

Familiar roasts have undoubtedly done the rounds during the past month or so. When you want to try something different, select veal.

Either a rolled veal shoulder or rump makes an excellent change-of-pace meat for this dry heat method of cookery. The delicate flavor appeals and makes a delicious main course with double baked potatoes, Harvard beets, molded cole slaw and bananas with gingerbread and whipped cream.

Veal contains almost no fat as an outer covering so strips of bacon are advised as topping for this roast.

Veal Rump or Shoulder Roast

- 3 to 4-pound veal rump or
- 3 to 4-lb. rolled veal shoulder
- Salt and pepper
- 4 to 6 slices of bacon, if desired

Season the roast with salt and pepper. Place on rack in an open roasting pan. Place bacon slices over meat. Insert roast meat thermometer so bulb reaches the center of the roast, making sure the bulb does not rest in fat or on bone. Do not add water. Do not cover. Roast in a slow oven (300 degrees F. to 325 degrees F.) approximately 2½ hours or until meat thermometer registers 170 degrees F. Allow 40 to 45 minutes per pound for roasting time.

Strawberry Shortcake Fluff

Looking for something different in a light and delicious dessert . . . one that's fancy enough to satisfy the girls . . . rich enough to delight the boys? Here it is— Strawberry Shortcake Fluff made with fresh sweet strawberries and light and tasty Angel Ring Cake.

We promise that all your guests will be asking for your recipe. Best of all, it's easy, never-fail and can be made well [illegible] hour!

STRAWBERRY SHORTCAKE FLUFF

- 1 quart fresh strawberries
- 1½ cups sugar
- 2 tablespoons unflavored gelatin
- ½ cup cold water
- 1 cup hot water
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup heavy cream, whipped
- 4 egg whites, beaten stiff
- few drops red food coloring, if desired.

Crush strawberries and cover with sugar; let stand 30 minutes. Soften gelatin in cold water; dissolve in hot water. Cool. Add strawberry mixture, lemon juice and salt. Chill until partially set; fold in cream and egg whites.

Cut Angel Ring into bite-sized pieces. Pour 1-3 strawberry mixture in bottom of 10-inch tube pan. Layer with ½ Angel Ring pieces. Repeat, ending with strawberry mixture on top. Stir gently until all cake pieces are moistened. Chill until firm.

To serve, loosen from sides with spatula and turn out onto serving plate. Garnish with additional whipped cream and strawberries.

Yield: 10 servings.

Almond Butter

New Food Plant Built at Vacaville

American Home Foods newest plant is located in Vacaville, deep in the heart of Vaca Valley. Appropriately, too, as this section is California's tomato producing area and a product used extensively in Chef Boy-Ar-Dee products.

Upon approaching the Vacaville plant, one is pleasantly startled by the striking use of color in the buildings. The outside walls of the main building are built of concrete construction and decorated with attractive panels of beige, orange, yellow, and red with white trimming. The plant area covers approximately 450,000 square feet, or about 10½ acres under one roof.

The front office building contains the Executive and Administrative offices for the Accounting, Procurement, Production, and Technical Divisions as well as employee service facilities. Directly behind the front office building is the production and warehouse area.

The production area is the kitchen, which is the center of the food processing section. In this area, carefully trained and supervised personnel prepare the Italian style spaghetti and pizza sauces as well as many other products that are sold under the Chef-Boy-Ar-Dee and Dennison brand names.

Near the back of the kitchen is located the large refrigeration area which includes two 10-degree F. freezer storage areas and a cool room that is kept just above freezing. This room is used for storing fresh meat and dairy products. It is not uncommon for this production area to use up to 50,000 pounds of beef for a day's production of canned and frozen products.

Located throughout this area is specially designed stainless steel processing equipment for such operations as meat ball production, ravioli shaping, tamale forming, pasta blanching, meat braising, dicing, as well as empty can washing machines and the filling and canning lines.

The frozen food operation is located adjacent to the canning area in the kitchen. Here the pizza sauce and shredded cheese is placed on freshly baked pizza crusts prior to the automatic freezing at -40 degrees F. After freezing, the pizzas are automatically cartoned and cased before being transferred to the -10 degrees F. storage area.

On the mezzanine above the kitchen area is located the sauce kitchen directly above the main kitchen area. This room contains the many large kettles that are used to formulate the various sauces and gravies prior to transfer to the canning lines.

Returning to the main floor, in the middle of the building, adjacent to the kitchen is the pizza room. Here the pie shells are formed and pre-baked with flour sent through the central distributing system to this room. On one side of this room is the flour mix room in which mix ingredients are formed.

Following in line toward the front of the building is the Spaghetti room, and as would be expected the spaghetti is made here. Also in the room are special drying and cutting machines for preparing this spaghetti for canned and packaged products.

The next room is known as the popcorn room. In this room, not only are the special aluminum covers and handles produced but, also, the filling of the pans with corn and other ingredients and the placing of the aluminum cover and the crimping of the edges to complete the packaging.

Near these two rooms is the quality control laboratory, the pilot plant, and the test kitchen that is manned with a graduate food technologist. Adjacent to this main building are two other building are wo other buildings known as the Tomato and the Power House buildings.

Try Cones Of Popcorn For Children

When the neighborhood children gather at your house and the interest in outdoor games begins to pall, gather the group around a table. Give them coloring books and crayons and a popcorn cone to munch. The quiet that descends will be startlingly pleasant.

The cones can be ready and waiting for they're quick to make. While the popcorn pops in its own foil fry pan, the butter and marshmallows will melt. Combine the mixtures and shape into cones. Dip the tops in melted chocolate and chopped nuts for a very festive looking treat. Putting the cone on a stick makes it much easier for little hands to hold and eat.

POPCORN CONES

- ¼ cup butter or margarine
- ¾ pound marshmallows
- 2 teaspoons vanilla
- 1 package popcorn
- 1 (6-ounce) package semi-sweet pieces
- ½ cup finely chopped dry toasted peanuts

Have ready eight 6-ounce paper cups and 8 lollipop sticks. Lightly grease paper cups. Put butter and marshmallows in pan over hot water. Cover. Heat until marshmallows are melted. Add vanilla and stir. Meanwhile, pop corn accrding to package directions. Put popped corn into a large greased bowl. Pour marshmallow mixture over popped corn and mix thoroughly. Lightly pack marshmallow-coated popped corn into the paper cups and insert stick into the center of packed popcorn. Melt chocolate pieces over and harden, about 30 minutes. Remove paper cup from popcorn. Melt chocolate pieecs over hot, not boiling water. Spread chopped peanuts out on a piece of waxed paper. Dip each popcorn cone into melted chocolate and then into peanuts. Set aside until chocolate has hardened. Makes 8 popcorn cones.

Homespun Meal

Mealy baked potatoes topped with creamed dried beef to which has been added sliced hard-cooked egg or cooked or canned green peas is a meal in one! Serve with a fruit compote or salad for a meal requiring minimum preparation

THE TRUE MEANING OF "VALUE" IN MAYFAIR'S Blue Ribbon U.S.D.A. CHOICE BEEF!

LOW PRICES PLUS OUR OWN HONEST MEAT-CUTTING POLICIES!

NO TRICKS, NO SLOPPY SHORT-CUTS NO PHONY PRICING -- JUST AN OLD-FASHIONED SQUARE DEAL!

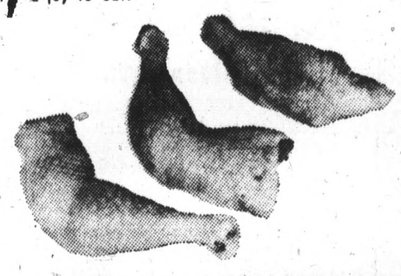
As you may have gathered, we have no use for shady meat merchandising practices. We don't use them—don't need them. We do alright following our legitimate, scrupulously honest methods. Here's number 2 in our continuing series —designed to share with you some of the Mayfair meat expert's know-how.

CUT UP FRYERS

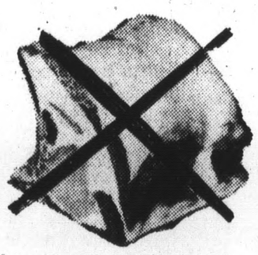
Here's the way we do it at Mayfair—with a sharp knife wielded by men who know where the joints are! It's slower and it takes skill—but it's the only way you get neat, chunky, well cut pieces—a pleasure to fry—a joy to eat!

NOT THIS!

This is a machine cut Frying chicken. Sure, it's the easy way to do it, but who wants a Breast that's 30% Back? Who wants a Thigh with the Back attached? You don't and you won't get it this way at Mayfair!



PORK LOIN ROAST



No Chop-goniffs at Mayfair! A Mayfair Pork Roast—either the rib or loin end, looks like this, with most of the chops intact. It's a better, meatier roast—a more honest value!

NOT THIS!

This, so-called Pork Loin Roast is the victim of a bare-faced ROBBERY! In order to cut more "Center Cut" Pork Chops (selling at a higher price) this roast has been robbed—leaving only this pathetic little nubbin! Not at Mayfair!

Patrolmen Sought By D.C. Police

Daly City is looking for qualified young men who would like to be police officers.

Deadline for filing applications is July 22.

The pay is good—salaries start at $626 per month.

And the city provides a revolver, holster, belt and handcuffs, as well as a uniform allowance of $150 a year.

The position, according to the city's personnel department, "provides" an excellent opportunity for a meaningful and profitable career.

There are some qualifications, of course.

First of all, a man must be between his twenty-first and thirty-first birthdays, at least 5-feet-9 inches tall and 150 pounds, and in excellent health. His vision must be nearly perfect, with no color blindness.

If the applicant can successfully meet the physical requirements, he will be given a rigid ability test, an oral exam, a stiff written test and a thorough medical examination.

Other requirements include two years of college, or a year of college and a year of police work, or the equivalent, and possession of a valid California drivers' license.

That's all there is to it, provided, that the man can observe accurately and remember names, faces, numbers, incidents and places; judge situations and people accurately; think and act quickly in emergencies, and understand and follow written directions.

The successful police candidate, if he has qualified so far, must also be able to interpret laws, rules and regulations; know how to use and care for firearms; learn standard broadcasting procedures of a police headquarters radio telephone and obtain a license for operation, and establish and maintain co-operative working relationships with the public and his fellow officers.

Having met all the foregoing standards, a man is practically assured of acceptance by the Daly City Police Department. One of the major challenges remaining is a comprehensive background investigation, which includes a complete check of school, work and law enforcement agency records.

Written examinations for police officers will be given August 6, as will agility tests. Those who successfully pass will be notified of the dates for oral examinations.

Smoke 'Hangs,' 22 Firemen Zip to 'Fire'

Black smoke hovered over the fireplace at Eugene Wayman's home at 521 Rockaway Beach Boulevard Monday.

And, at 8:23 p.m. 22 members of the Pacifica Fire Department, prepared to combat a structural blaze, zipped to the scene, only to find that Wayman was burning green wood and paper in the fireplace.

Because of weather conditions, the smoke just hung over the house, giving the appearance that the whole house was burning.

Columbus Holiday Out At Jeff High

There'll be no holiday honoring Christopher Columbus on Wednesday, October 12, in the Jefferson Union High School District.

This was decided by the district trustees following a request by Mrs. Doris Lindfors, Westmoor teacher and member of the teachers' negotiating council.

She pointed out that the district has 178 school days and the law requires a minimum of 175; also that San Francisco schools observe this holiday.

Fred Goodall, assistant superintendent, remarked "Our school year is one of the shortest in the area."

Edward D. Morgan, district superintenent, said the district must share in considering such a holiday with elementary schools.

"You can't turn loose 6,500 high school students for a holiday that the elementary pupils don't have without creating a disturbing influence," Morgan declared.

He added that "Lief Erickson Day" might be more appropriate, in view of recent discoveries.

Laguna Salada Burglar Alarms

Trustees of the Laguna Salada Union School District, plagued by vandalism at several schools, last week authorized the installation of burglar alarms at three of the schools.

The warning systems will be placed at Vallemar, Westview and Fairmont Schools, which are "much more prone to breaking and entering than the other schools in the district," according to district administrators.

Cost of the installation will be $135 per school, plus an eight dollar monthly lease and maintenance fee.

10,000th Arrest By D.C. Police

To Valerie Marie Griffin, 23, 1752 Sweetwood, Colma, went the "honor" of being the Daly City Police Department's 10,000th arrest early yesterday.

The young woman was booked at the city jail, charged with drunk driving, after her car smashed into a parked auto at San Jose Avenue and Wilson Street at 2:06 a.m.

Patrolman Thomas Crawford stated in his report of the accident that he had seen the Griffin auto northbound on Mission doing an estimated 70 miles an hour.

He said he lost track of the vehicle for a short time, then saw it again in a full skid just before it slammed into the parked car.

The driver received facial cuts, but refused to go to the hospital, Crawford reported, when an ambulance arrived. She was treated at the jail.

Police records immediately available showed some 8,000 of the 10,000 bookings made by Daly City police have been since 1951.

Firecracker Explodes, Girl Injured

A 16-year-old South San Francisco girl was in satisfactory condition today in Peninsula Hospital after a firecracker concealed in a small match box exploded in her hands, injuring her left eye.

Juli Anne Ferguson, daughter of James and Majorie Ferguson of 485 Alta Vista Drive, suffered the injury when a matchbox containing a firecracker exploded as she looked down at it.

Miss Ferguson was not expected to lose sight in her injured eye, according to a hospital spokesman.

San Bruno Woman Is Hit By Car

A San Bruno woman suffered multiple contusions of the scalp and right shoulder when she was hit by a car while crossing the El Camino Real Monday.

The car, driven by Fred A. Karnes, 56, of 602 Bayview Avenue, Millbrae, struck Mrs. Ann Krejick, 58, of 277 Cypress Avenue, as she was walking inside a pedestrian crossing.

Police cited Karnes for failing to yield the right-of-way to a pedestrian.

Operator Of Dozer Hurt

Clarence N. Haglewood, 55, of 291 Lomita Avenue, San Bruno, fell off a bulldozer last Thursday while working on the Junipero Serra Freeway project and injured his back.

Haglewood bounced out of the seat when the bulldozer hit an obstacle in the roadway.

Sleepy Driver

Peter J. Moretti, 27, of 540 Hawthorne Avenue, San Bruno, suffered minor injuries last Friday when he fell asleep while driving south on Cherry Avenue and smashed into a parked car.

San Bruno police said Moretti apparently fell asleep and swerved across the road, smashing into the parked car owned by William P. Reidy, of 338 Cherry Avenue.

500-Acre Fire Threatens 4-H

A huge, wind-driven grass fire on San Bruno Mountain that threatened the South San Francisco 4-H Club and endangered the lives of several persons, as well as the animals kept at the club, was fought last Friday by the combined forces of the State Division of Forestry and the Brisbane and South San Francisco fire departments.

One narrow escape was reported by Deputy Sheriff Gerard Masshar, who saw a woman and three girls run from the 4-H building, which was engulfed in smoke. Each of the girls carried a lamb in her arms.

Car Stalls

The woman and girls got into a station wagon and started to drive away but the smoke was so thick that the car went off the road and stalled. Because the fire was so close, the occupants fled the car, leaving the lambs there. Deputies got to the car within a few minutes and rescued the lambs, apparently unharmed. The car, which was towed away, sustained some fire damage, however.

Masshar identified the woman as Mrs. Illwatt Rosa, 117 Ravenswood Way, South San Francisco, and the children as her daughter, Vicky Ann, 14, and her friends, Pat Johnson and Karen Chresman, both 15.

Mrs. Rosa said she was in the 4-H buliding when the fire broke out at 5 o'clock about 1,000 feet away. The fire raced toward the building, she said, because of the strong wind.

Close to School

Firemen said the flames also came within 100 feet of Hillsdale School on the South San Francisco side of San Bruno Mountain and within 500 feet of homes on the Brisbane side.

Backfires and bulldozer trails were employed in fighting the fire, which firemen said was particulary difficult because of swirling winds.

Ot one time Forest Ranger Ernest Werder found himself nearly surrounded by flames atop the mountain.

Forty-five men and a dozen pieces of equipment were used in fighting the fire, which broke out on the South San Francisco side and spread over the ridge toward Brisbane.

Cause Sought

The cause of the fire was undetermined, but firemen said all grass fires on San Bruno Mountain are set either deliberately, by accident or through carelessness. Most are blamed on children playing with matches and shooting off firecrackers.

4 Juveniles Arrested At D.C. 'Party'

Four Daly City juveniles were arrested last Thursday at 862 N. Mayfair Avenue on charges ranging from "in danger of leading a lewd and immoral life" and drunkeness to battery and resisting arrest.

The juveniles, three boys and a girl, ranged in age from 17 to 14.

Daly City police said the youngest of the four, a girl, refused to leave the residence when asked by Patrolmen Dennis Sheehy and Dennis Carlomagno, striking Officer Sheehy with her feet and hands in the face.

The girl was carried out of the home, "screaming loud and vulgar profanities," the policemen reported.

After the patrolmen had dispersed "numerous drunken juveniles" from the residence, the girl had been found only partially dressed in a bedroom.

She and one of the youths was arrested on the "in danger of leading a lewd and immoral life" charge. The youth also was charged with interfering with a police officer.

Another youth was charged with being drunk and violating curfew, while the fourth had curfew and trespass counts lodged against him.

SAN MATEO TIMES AND DAILY NEWS LEADER

- Here's an exciting way to figure out what you think the prices of groceries will be next week—and win cash and groceries while you are doing it. The Times will give the winner $25 in cash. However, if the winner is a regular, home-delivered subscriber, he or she will receive an extra bonus of $25, a total prize of $50 in cash. The winner also will be given $10 worth of groceries of his or her own choosing from each of the merchants listed above.

- Just write what you think will be the lowest advertised prices for the items (printed in the official entry blank) in any advertisement in next Wednesday's issue of The Times and Post. The person who has the most correct answers will be declared the winner. If more than one entry has the same number of correct answers, or if no entry contains any correct answers, then the person who picks the total closest to the actual total price of all items, will be declared the winner.

- Quality, quantity, brand, grade or size of a product must be advertised in terms of the units called for in the contest. For example, if three pounds of an article are advertised that price cannot be considered if the contest calls for the lowest advertised price of one pound. In the event an article is not advertised in the quantity called for in the contest, then only the remaining articles and their total will be considered for the contest. Advertised prices will not be considered if a coupon, minimum purchase or purchase of another article is required to buy that article at that price. This week's entries must be postmarked or received in The Times office not later than Friday midnight, July 8, to be eligible. Entries must be addressed to Your Grocery List Editor, San Mateo Times, San Mateo, California.

NOTE: Employes or members of their immediate families of any food advertisers in next Wednesday's newspaper are not eligible to compete in this contest.

GENERAL RULES:

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the contest except employes of The Times or members of their families or other specifically exempted from a particular contest.
2. A contestant may submit as many entries as desired on the official entry blank printed in the newspaper, but only one, exact-sized hand-drawn facsimile of the official entry blank. No mechanically reproduced (printed, mimeographed, etc.) copies of the entry blank will be accepted, unless issued by The Times.
3. Entries may be attached to a postcard, mailed in an envelope or delivered by hand to the office of The Times.
4. An entry must reach the contest editor before the date specified. No entries received after that time, whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Times is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.
5. If more than one winning answer is received, the prizes will be divided equally among the winners.
6. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judge's decision. All entries become the property of The Times.
7. Only one prize per contest will be awarded to a family unit.
8. Entries must be mailed or delivered to the contest editor to be declared eligible. No entries can be returned. The answer to each contest will be printed in The Times within 14 or less days after the contest ends.
9. Regular subscribers who win will get a bonus equal to the amount of the cash prize.
10. Answers to the contests or winners will not be given out over the telephone. Winners will be notied by The Times.
